County Wheat Harvest Starts

WHEAT HARVESTING in the Marion area got under way Friday and Saturday. Cutting and combining of an expected high yield crop at the W. H. Lust and Son farm south of Marion on U.S. Route 23 started just before noon. Shown here is the son, Walter Lust, as he made one of many passes around the field. He combined about 20 bushels of wheat each time around the field.

Prowler Ruled Out in Slaying At Bay Village

Belief Doctor's Wife Known by Attacker Indicated by Coroner

CLEVELAND (AP)—County investigators said today they have virtually ruled out a "casual burglar" or prowler as the killer of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard, 31-year-old wife of a suburban Bay Village osteopath.

Because of the unusual violence of the July 4 slaying, the possibility that the murderer was an insane person is being considered, Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said.

The comely young mother was found dead in bed with her head battered by 25 bone-deep blows. Walls of the room were spattered with blood.

Mental Case Considered

Dr. Gerber said the victim and her husband, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, might have met a schizophrenic person without realizing it and she may have been built up in the person's disordered mind as someone who should be destroyed.

Schizophrenics suffer from a form of psychosis characterized by loss of contact with normal environment and by disintegration of personality.

The coroner also expressed belief the killer had a strong emotional attachment to the victim.

Bay Village police prepared today to question all employes of the village hospital—operated by Dr. Sheppard's father—where the son practiced.

The suburb's police said doctors, nurses, interns, service and maintenance employes at the osteopahic institution will be systematically quizzed to find out if there have been any disgruntled former patients or employes who might have had it "in" for the husky, athletic osteopath.

Study Blood Samples

Meanwhile, laboratory technicans studied scrapings of dried blood taken yesterday from the back porch and stairs leading to the bedroom where Marilyn, the osteopath's 31-year-old wife, was battered in the head by 25 bone-deep blows early last Sunday.

Police theorized the blood might have dropped from the murder weapon, which might have been removed from the fashionable, white-frame house.

Studied also were scrapings from the night latch of the back door, which a neighbor reported had

Visit Dr. Sheppard

UPPER SANDUSKY — Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Propst of near Upper Sandusky visited Friday with his cousin, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, who is residing with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Sheppard of Bay Village.

The younger Dr. Sheppard was released Thursday from Bay Village Hospital and toured the grounds of his Bay Village home with officers investigating the July 4 slaying of his wife, Marilyn.

The senior Dr. Sheppard is a former Upper Sandusky resident and practiced here before going to Cleveland 30 years ago.

Charge of Shooting Faces Local Man In Wild Battle

A Marion County man today faced charges of shooting with intent to kill following a gun battle yesterday with a Morrow County man.

Both the county man, Lunas Johnson, 54, and his intended victim, Everett Richendollar, 52, of near Cardington, were hospitalized as a result of the fracas.

Johnson is being treated at City Hospital here for a mouth injury suffered during a scuffle in a Morrow County dwelling while Richendollar is in the Morrow County Hospital with three gunshot wounds received during the attack.

MORROW COUNTY sheriff George Mosier said the "feud" started Sunday at 1:30 p.m. on State Route 529, three and one-half miles west of Cardington in Morrow County, when Johnson took shots with a .22 automatic pistol at Richendollar as their cars moved side by side down the highway.

Marion County sheriff's deputies linked the shooting to the disappearance of Johnson's wife, Della, 38. She was reported missing June 30 and was discovered last week living in Morrow County.

Sheriff Mosier's deputies said Johnson was a passenger in a car driven by his step-daughter's hus-

City of Marion Named in Suit Asking $15,000

Baker Wood Company Co-Defendant; Couple Claims River Polluted

A Marion County couple Saturday filed $15,000 damage suits against the Baker Wood Preserving Co. and the City of Marion, charging pollution of a river running through their land has disrupted farm operations.

Dow G. and Blanche Bates of near Marion filed the suits. They claim Baker Wood and the City of Marion have been dumping refuse into the Little Scioto River which had caused them to lose livestock and has ruined some land.

Undesirable Place

The couple claims odors and refuse from the river make their farm an undesirable place to live and work.

Marion Mayor Harold F. Robinson said today that to his knowledge there is no refuse being discharged from city sanitary or storm water sewers which would pollute the river.

He said the city administration checked into similar complaints several times recently and found that most of the refuse polluting the river was "run-off" rainwater from the Baker Wood Preserving Co. plant grounds.

Contains None

Mayor Robinson further stated that there is a possibility the wood preserving plant may be tapped into a nearby city storm water sewer and may be dumping "creosote and phenol oil" into the river that way. "If they are, they are doing it without a permit from the city," he said.

Sanitary sewage from the plant which is fed through the city sewage disposal plant contains none of these materials, according to the mayor. Baker Wood pays the city 16-cents for each 1,000 gallons of

U.S. Aid to France, Italy Hinges on NATO Okay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Relations Committee senators awaited a State Department okay today on a plan which by year's end could snap the foreign aid pipeline to two major U. S. Allies, France and Italy.

Acting Committee Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), who took the virtual ultimatum to department chiefs for a quick study yesterday, said he believes they welcomed it but wanted to be "perfectly clear as to just what the language means" before the senators take a final vote—perhaps at a scheduled closed session today.

Sets Dec. 31 Deadline

The amendment tentatively adopted without dissent in a weekend session, would shut off U. S. military and economic assistance to France and Italy Dec. 31 if they fail by then to join the European Defense Community or an acceptable substitute defense scheme.

Offered by Sen. Knowland of California, the majority leader, the new amendment is a tougher version of wording already adopted by the House when it passed the foreign aid bill now before the Senate group. Smith said it would cut in half the delivery of goods on order—"in the pipeline," as he phrased it.

No Objection Voiced

The House provision, known as the Richards amendment, would deny to either country a share of 1954 or 1955 foreign aid funds if they stayed out of EDC. But it would have let them continue to get benefits from the 1951, 1952 and 1953 programs.

Chou En-Lai, Eden Rejoin Peace Parley

Foreign Ministers Fly Back to Geneva For Indochina Talks

GENEVA (AP)—Chou En-Lai returned to Geneva today for a fresh round of bargaining on Indochina. He flew in a few hours after British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden joined French Premier Pierre Mendes-France in a last effort to make peace with the Communist over the revolt - torn Southeast Asian land.

The Red Chinese premier was greeted by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov as he stepped from the Russian Air Force plane that brought him here from Moscow.

Eden also arrived by plane today for the crucial Indochina meetings coming up.

The foreign secretary was the luncheon guest of Mendes-France.

First on Eden's schedule after the lunch was a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov. The two ministers, who are co-chairmen of the Indochina conference, will have to set the time of the next meeting.

Molotov Active

Molotov arrived last week. In addition to seeing Mendes-France, he has had many meetings with the other Communist delegations here. Red Chinese Priemier Chou En-lai left Moscow early today and is expected to arrive in Geneva later today.

The conference will first discuss the reports of the military commissions. These groups were ordered three weeks ago to submit by July 10 recommendations on military aspects of an armistice.

It appeared there was no clear agreement on these questions, however. Neither the Cambodians or the Laotians reportedly have been able to agree with the Communist-led Vietminh representatives on a single report. In each case, separate reports probably will be issued.

Shrouded in Secrecy

The negotiations over Viet Nam, where most of the fighting has occurred and where the Vietminh is demanding the greatest concessions, have been held in deep secrecy. The report, or reports, on these talks undoubtedly will show just what the Communists are asking for peace in Indochina.

Mendes-France scheduled another meeting today with Pham Van Dong, the Vietminh foreign minister. The French leader entered the crucial week of the conference uncertain of full U. S. backing.

Two American envoys told the French leader yesterday that Secretary of State Dulles would not back up the French by returning to Geneva himself unless he saw signs that the Communists were ready to negotiate in good faith.

Briefed by Envoys

Reliable sources said this was the message given Mendes-France by Alexis Johnson, acting head of the U.S. delegation at the Geneva conference, and C. Douglas Dillon, U.S. ambassador to France, at their meeting here yesterday.

The United States repeatedly has made it clear it would stand aloof

Blood Shortage Cited, Donors Needed in City

Ill and desperately in need of blood—in a distant city or in Marion, could you count on your chapter of Red Cross for help? If enough donors respond to the bloodmobile call, assistance at a time of need will be assured.

The local Red Cross chapter today, however, in an "emergency" appeal revealed that to date only 27 Marionites have registered for the bloodmobile visit here Wednesday and Thursday. To meet the needs of Marion County 175 pints of blood are required, Miss Lillian Plack, chapter secretary said, and she termed this shortage as "critical."

During two days of the bloodmobile's visit to Marion in May, 232 pints were given, and exactly that number has been used at City Hospital in the last two months. When calls for blood come from Marion or county residents in other hospitals, there is "not even enough for our own people," Miss Plack pointed out. Recently calls for blood have come for Marionites from hospitals in Cleveland, Akron, and New York.

The opportunity for contributing a pint of blood that may save the life of a relative, neighbor, or friend is given by the visit of the bloodmobile unit to the community, with the hours for Wednesday set as 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The bloodmobile will be stationed at First Presbyterian Church.

Thursday's hours for the unit's visit to the Marion Power Shovel Co. are 11 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Delta Defense Area Shrinks Under Attack

Defenders Say Rebels Beaten Back in Hard Fighting Near Key City

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh legions tightened their pincers on Hanoi today but the war capital's French defenders claimed they had beat back an attack by 3,000 rebels only 20 miles from the city and killed at least 300 of the Communist-led force.

The French admitted their own losses were "appreciable" but gave no figures.

Other rebel units surged in from the northeast and northwest to strike at French outposts 25 miles above the imperiled city.

Clash on All Fronts

Clashes were reported yesterday at scores of points as the Vieminh kept up their pressure.

So busy were the French trying to hold their shrunken Red River delta defenses that they were unable to spare planes for more than token harassment of the long truck convoys rumbling south from the Red China frontier.

French reconnaissance pilots report that Red China is funneling more supplies into northern Indochina than she did in the days before the fall of the French bastion of Dien Bien Phu.

But a French briefing officer declared, "We do not have the planes to spare for more than harassment attacks against the Red supply convoys."

"It is more important now," he said, "that we bomb Vietminh guerrilla bases inside the delta."

Drop 150 Tons of Bombs

Yesterday French warplanes rained nearly 150 tons of bombs on rebel bases inside the delta defenses, some of them less than 20 miles from Hanoi.

More than 100 bombers pounded a string of Vietminh bases which threatened to cut off Hung Yen, cornerstone of the delta defenses 25 miles southeast of Hanoi. Several rebel-held villages were set afire.

North of Hanoi the French were more successful. They managed to reopen roads between Sept. Pagodes, Phu Lang Thuong and Bac Ninh, 30 miles from the city. This restored communications between the three towns, which form a protective triangle against Vietminh regulars massing to the north.

Arms Aid Safe

French officials, meanwhile sought to allay fear voiced by U.S. congressmen that American-supplied arms might fall into Communist hands should there be a last-minute pullback from Hanoi.

A spokesman for the French Union commander, Gen. Paul Ely, said only 10 per cent of the guns, tanks and planes still being poured into this war-torn land are being stored in northern Indochina. And those depots are located in the port of Haiphong on the China Sea so their removal by ship should be comparatively easy.

It was also pointed out that newly arriving American supply ships are being diverted from Haiphong more than 700 miles south to Saigon.

Byrnes Urges U.S. Return to Geneva Parley

Ex-Secretary of State Recommends Presence For Allied Showdown

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina today advocated the return of American representatives to the Geneva conference for an Allied showdown on Indochina.

Byrnes, former secretary of state, who is here attending the 46th annual Governors Conference, said in an interview he does not believe the United States can afford to stand aloof and thus risk being blamed before the world for failure to reach a settlement with the Communists.

'Should Be There'

"We could refuse to participate in any surrender agreement," he said. "But I think our representatives ought to be there to make our viewpoint known. If there is a final breakdown in efforts to get an acceptable agreement, I don't think the British and French should be able to charge it to our absence."

Dulles has hesitated about going back to the conference table because of possible domestic criticism of the results, and the fear of American involvement in enforcing some settlement which would be regarded in this country as a French surrender to the Communists.

There was a possibility that Vice President Nixon, substituting here for President Eisenhower, might give the governors in a closed session later in the day the administration's latest views on the Indochina situation.

Death in Family

The President canceled an appearance because of the death of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower.

Nixon is scheduled to speak at the annual state dinner tonight.

The speech will be broadcast by radio at 8 p.m., EST. ABC scheduled a "live" broadcast, and NBC and CBS scheduled recordings at 9:30 to 10 p. m., EST.

Nixon has incurred some Democratic wrath recently because he has blamed the former Democratic administrations for the loss of China to the Communists, contending that the Korean War and present difficulties in Indochina stemmed from this event.

However, Gov. Dan Thornton, Colorado Republican, said in a prepared welcoming speech that the time has come for Americans to forget politics in dealing with the

Paducah Atom Plant Walkout By Union Ends

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — Operations have returned to normal at the atomic energy plant near here today with striking workers back on the job.

A strike threatening production of atomic and hydrogen bombs was called off Saturday when members of Local 550, CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers, voted to return to work immediately, reversing a previous decision to continue the walkout.

The Paducah employes followed the example of strikers at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., plant who voted Friday night to end their walkout.

One thousand workers at Paducah and 3,500 at Oak Ridge were involved in the strike.

A plan for settling the walkout was worked out in Washington by Secretary of Labor Mitchell and CIO President Walter Reuther. It calls for a government review of health, housing and community problems of all the nation's atomic workers and a study to strengthen labor-management relations in the atomic field.

The peace plan did not mention the wage issue, over which the strike was called.

PUCO Spells Out Rules To Better Phone Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state utilities commission today spelled out a set of ground rules designed to improve telephone service throughout the state.

The commission set 11 a. m., Aug. 2 for a public hearing on its proposed minimum telephone service standards which it claims would affect all 175 telephone companies in Ohio. Telephone companies will appeal the hearing and be given a chance to suggest revisions and modifications.

Antisubversive Action Sought By Eisenhower

Congressmen Prodded As Adjournment Day, July 31, Approaches

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress heads today into the scheduled final three weeks of its 1954 session with President Eisenhower reportedly prodding for stepped-up action on his program of antisubversive measures.

Republican leaders are aiming for a July 31 adjournment. Signs are that if they don't make it, they shouldn't miss by more than a week or two.

Ike Calls for Action

One of the fields where action has lagged is in the President's suggestions for legislation to deal with domestic subversives. Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, said in an interview yesterday Eisenhower applied some heat at last week's conference with Capitol Hill leaders to get their bills moving.

No major bill in the field has been approved by both branches of Congress. The Senate last year approved a measure to give immunity from federal prosecution to some witnesses in exchange for their testimony. The House this year approved use of wiretap information as court evidence in national security cases.

Different Versions

Neither of these bills is in the form the administration asked. The House has also okayed bills to provide the death penalty for spying in peacetime and broaden the espionage and sabotage laws, and to increase penalties for harboring fugitives from justice.

There has been committee or

Churchill Claims Policy On Red China Unaltered

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill said today his government does "not consider that this is the moment" to raise the matter of Communist China's admission to the United Nations.

The Prime Minister told the House of Commons that Britain's policy toward Red China remains the same—she favors seating Red China in the U. N. after the Peiping regime has proved it is willing to foreswear aggression and abide by international agreements.

'Most Agreeable'

Churchill also said his Washington conference with President Eisenhower was the most agreeable and fruitful in his experience.

Churchill opened by saying that he went to Washington because he was "deeply concerned at the lack of information" Britain possessed about the hydrogen bomb. He concluded by saying that widespread acceptance of the idea of peaceful coexistence of Communist and non-Communist worlds might with the passage of years solve problems and "avert the mass destruction of the human race."

Jarred by U. S. Speech

"I thought I ought to have a personal meeting with President Eisenhower at the first convenient opportunity," the 79-year-old Prime Minister told the House of Commons.

Murmurs of approval echoed through the House.

Churchill said a speech about the hydrogen bomb by Sterling Cole, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee of Atomic Energy, on Feb. 17 had astonished him.

British Royalty Is Silent on Report Queen Expecting

LONDON (AP) — Buckingham Palace maintained its customary silence today on a New York newspaper report Queen Elizabeth II is expecting her third child. Court sources said so far as they know, the report is unfounded.

The sources commented the Queen has not canceled future engagements. Such cancellations would be an almost sure sign the monarch is expecting.

British newspapers paid scant attention to the report in the New York Daily News.

The Daily News in a copyrighted story from London last night quoted "Buckingham Palace sources" as saying Elizabeth is expecting early next year. The news added that "only last week two additional doctors were appointed to the palace staff."

Patrolmen Report 2 Accidents, Police List 5 Over Weekend

Two persons were injured in one of two traffic accidents in Marion County investigated by Marion state highway patrolmen over the weekend. City police reported five accidents and one injury.

A two-car accident Sunday, at 1:59 p.m. on Route 4 at Crystal Lake, two miles north of Marion, resulted in the injuries to the two persons.

Suffer Bruises

Earle Quillen, 36, of near Radnor received a bruised left arm while Patricia A. Quillen, 8, received a cut lip and bruised forehead.

Quillen's car ran into the rear of one operated by Charles F. Pickens, 39, of Bucyrus, which was stopped on the highway. Both vehicles were headed north.

There was moderate damage to the rear of the Pickens car and to the right front end of the Quillen vehicle.

Both drivers are to appear in court at a later date on charges arising from the mishap. Quillen was charged with failure to stop within the assured clear distance while Pickens was charged with failure to signal a stop.

Hit-Skip Accident

The other accident, which occurred yesterday at 7:50 p.m. on Route 23, 3.1 miles south of Marion, was a hit-skip one involving three cars.

Cars driven by Donald E. McKenzie, 19, of Waldo and James W. Richards, 48, of 125 W. Farming St. were stopped on Route 23 preparing to make a turn into the South Drive-In Theater when they were struck from the rear by a third car, which failed to stop.

A short time later Curtis Hughes, 17, of South Bend, Ind., was arrested by Marion County deputy sheriffs and was charged with leaving the scene of the accident. He was also cited for failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

Hughes was cited to appear before Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo.

Bicyclist, 11, Injured

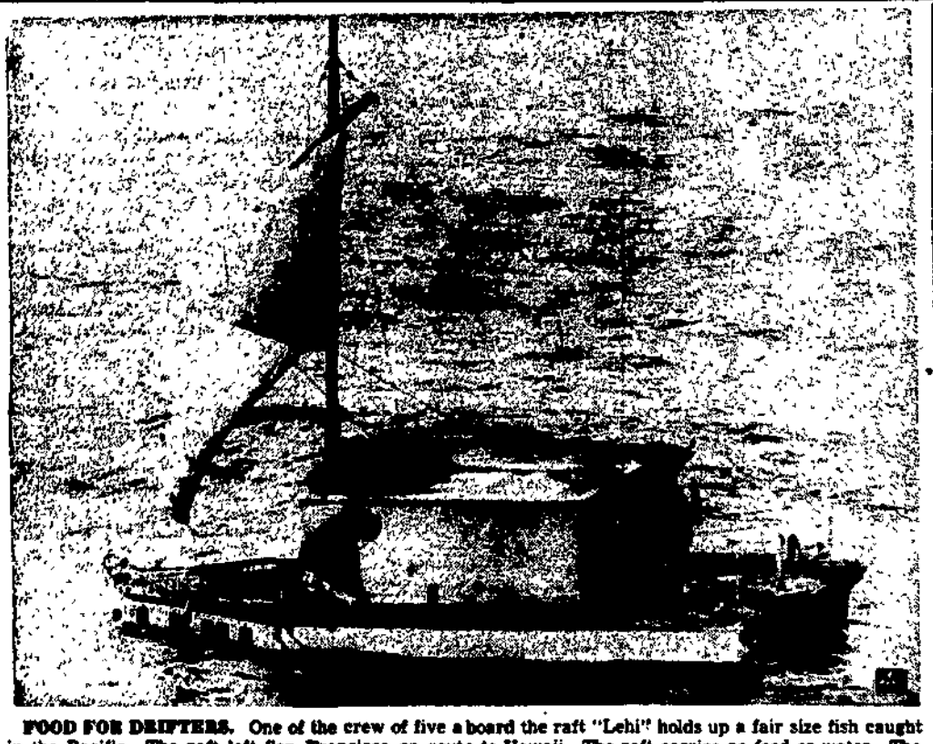
An 11-year-old bicyclist was slightly injured in one of five weekend traffic accidents reported today by city police.

Suffering a cut on his elbow and some bruises on his arm and legs was Robert MacDonald of 334 Summit St. His bike and a car collided at 147 N. Main St. at 10:09 a.m. Saturday. Driver of the car was Paul B. Steiner, 38, of near Marion. He was traveling north and making a left turn and Robert was riding south, police said.

A hit-skip accident in front of 685 N. State St. at 11:41 p.m. Saturday brought about the arrest of Charles Davis, 31, of 213 Harrison St. on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. His car struck a car parked in front of 685 N. State St. owned by Sidney Pouser of 679 N. State St., police said. Davis was slated to appear in Municipal Court today to answer the charge.

Police said they located Davis' car at a garage after a witness identified it. They matched some parts found at the scene of the accident with missing parts on the Davis car, they reported.

Two of the remaining three accidents involved less than $100 damage. The other was a collision at N. Main and Fairground Sts. at 11:37 a.m. Sunday involving cars driven by George L. Earl, 37, of near Marion and John E. Laucier, 64, of Prospect.



FOOD FOR DRIFTERS. One of the crew of five aboard the raft "Lehi" holds up a fair size fish caught in the Pacific. The raft left San Francisco en route to Hawaii. The raft carries no food or water. The crew plans to live off marine life and rain water on the 2,200-mile drift voyage.

subcommittee action on bills aimed at penalizing "Communist-infiltrated" organizations and giving the President authority in an emergency to bar suspected spies and Communists from defense plants.

Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee hoped to complete action today on a foreign aid authorization of about $3,100,000,000 into which it has tentatively written provisions (1) putting Congress on record again as opposing Red China's entry into the United Nations and (2) shutting off arms aid to France and Italy unless they approve a proposed European defense army or an acceptable alternative.

Other major legislation up for action this week, either in the House or Senate or in key committees, includes:

Other Major Legislation

Atomic Energy Act—The Senate probably will open debate tomorrow on a bill embodying Eisenhower's recommendations for changes in the basic atomic law to permit giving certain weapons information to this nation's allies and to allow private firms to handle fissionable materials as a means of stimulating development of peacetime atomic power.

Taxes—Senate and House representatives plan to start Wednesday the big job of adjusting differences in the two versions of the administration's tax revision bill.

Debt limit — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey may renew this week his pleading for an increase in the legal debt ceiling from 275 to 290 billion dollars. The House okayed the boost last year, but the Senate Finance Committee balked and there is still powerful opposition there.

Farm — Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) said he hopes the Senate Agriculture Committee can report formally to the Senate early this week a general farm bill calling for another year of high rigid price supports on basic crops. Aiken supports the administration program of flexible supports, and hopes to substitute on the Senate floor a modified version of that plan, similar to one already approved by the House.

'No Time for Politics'

"In the final analysis," he said, "this is a battle of ideas between Americans and those who would destroy us — not a battle between Democrats and Republicans.

"Certainly the bullets of any aggressor will not distinguish those of one political affiliation from those of another. Certainly, amid the hue and cry and emotions of political campaigns, we must realize the common problem and the mutual goal of all Americans."

He pointed out that the company itself treats its sewage to remove the creosote and phenol oils before it is discharged into the sanitary sewer.

He stated flatly that the company absolutely does not discharge any waste or sewage except through the sanitary sewer.

Leaving Feed Mill Here

Robert W. Fay Promoted To New Chattanooga Post

Promotion of Robert W. Fay, manager of the McMillen Feed Mills plant in Marion, to a new post and appointment of his successor was announced today by H. W. McMillen, chairman of the board of the Central Soya Co.

Fay has been made manager of Central Soya's new plant in Chattanooga, Tenn.

HIS SUCCESSOR at the company's Marion plant will be Wendell Mann, who was with the McMillen plant here four years ago until his advancement as assistant superintendent of the company's plant in Gibson City, Ill. His position here previously was production engineer.

Both appointments are effective immediately.

Fay plans to leave next week for his new post. The Chattanooga plant, now under construction, like the McMillen plant here, will process soybeans and manufacture the company's "Master-Mix" feeds.

FAY HAS BEEN head of the local plant for five years, coming to Marion from a Central Soya plant in Decatur, Ind., where he was superintendent of the solvent department. He has been with the company for seven years and formerly was employed by the Proctor and Gamble Co. He graduated in chemical engineering from Iowa State College in 1937.

He and his wife have both been active in community affairs. Fay was one of the division leaders in the United Appeals campaign, is an elder of the First Presbyterian Church, and, with his wife, a member of the church choir. He is also a member of the Kiwanis Club, Marion Foremen's Club, the Manufacturer's Council, and the Marion Country Club. Mrs. Fay is a past president of the Marion League of Women Voters. The Fays and their four children will move to Chattanooga as soon as housing can be found.

ROBERT W. FAY
Named Chattanooga Plant Head

—:—

MANN, THE NEW Marion plant head, is also a chemical engineer. A native of Decatur, he was graduated from Purdue University in 1944. He had also studied at Tri-State College at Angola, Ind., and Indiana Tech at Ft. Wayne. He joined the company in 1934, but left for study in college and for duty in the Army during World War II, when he rose from private to captain, serving as an engineer in the Army's medical research laboratory.

The Manns and their three children will move to Marion in the near future.

from any "sell-out" to the Communists in Indochina.

Despite Dulles' firm message, however, there was a general feeling in Western circles that either Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith would resume leadership of the American delegation or some other high State Department official would be sent for the fateful negotiations ahead.

Make or Break Week

Mendes-France faced a make-or-break week. He has promised the French National Assembly to achieve a cease-fire in Indochina by July 20 or resign.

The French Premier now has seen all three Communist leaders participating in the negotiations here —Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Vietminh Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong, and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

He talked to Chou in Bern June 23, shortly before the Chinese diplomat left the conference for New Delhi and Peiping. Mendes-France met with Molotov Saturday night and late yesterday conferred with Dong.

Chou Returning

Chou was expected back in Geneva today. Presumably he and Mendes-France will meet again soon after the Chinese's arrival.

Mendes-France's session with Dong yesterday was his first face-to-face encounter with the Vietminh representative.

Nothing could be learned early today about their talk at the French leader's lakeside headquarters' villa.

Foreign Aid

ton T. Merchant was quoted in Foreign Relations Committee testimony made public yesterday as saying he had no objection to the Richards amendment.

Merchant predicted, however, that both France and Italy would join EDC this year. Four other nations—West Germany, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—have ratified the six-nation project, which calls for an international army to defend Europe. The United States views such joint action by the Europeans themselves as a necessary bulwark against the Soviet threat, but the French in particular have balked on grounds it opens the door to German rearmament.

Official sources in London said today American and British diplomats had worked out a short, four-power treaty to give West Germany near-independence this year if France fails to ratify the EDC Treaty.

These sources said the treaty, which would be signed by the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, would give the Bonn republic power to control most of its own affairs but would not provide for German rearmament outside of EDC.

Three Wallets Stolen As Men Go Swimming

Wallets of three Marion men were stolen while the trio was swimming in the Hocking Bridge swimming hole on County Route 94 Saturday night, the sheriff's office reported today. The wallets contained about $4 in cash, a car registration and two drivers licenses. They were owned by James White, 696 May St., Charles Harmond, and William Stewart, 381 Milburn Ave.

The men said they saw two other men take the wallets and drive away. A license number copied down by the trio was checked out and found to be incorrect, sheriff's deputies said.

Builder Won't Talk in Probe

New Jersey Man Sits Silent Before Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Tenafly, N. J., builder today refused to testify before senators probing multi - million dollar "windfall" profits in FHA-insured apartment construction. He claimed his "rights" under the Fifth Amendment not to be a witness against himself.

Sidney Sarner, identified as the builder of a Linwood Park, Inc., N. J. apartment project, declined to answer any questions at all. But his attorney, George Marcus of Hackensack, N. J., criticized the Senate Banking Committee and accused its members of "shooting off" their mouths. He shouted at Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), committee chairman: "We did nothing wrong."

Sarner was the third witness, but the first builder, to take the Fifth Amendment in the course of the hearings. The other two were ousted FHA officials Clyde L. Powell, former assistant commissioner in charge of rental housing projects, and Andrew Frost, former assistant state director of the FHA in New Mexico.

Rubber Strike Enters 5th Day

AKRON, Ohio (AP)-Some 23,000 CIO united rubber workers went into the fifth day of a company-wide strike against the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co today with their president's assurance that the international union "will continue to give you its support until this strike is brought to a successful conclusion."

L.S. Buckmaster made the vow at a rally attended yesterday by 3,000 unionists who voted unanimously to stand firm on demands for a 7 ½-cent hourly pay increase and correction of interplant inequities amounting to another 4 ½ cents overall. The group also gave a vote of confidence for the union's leaders.

The walkout started last Wednesday midnight after negotiations collapsed at Cincinnati. It affects 13,000 workers here and another 10,000 in St. Mary's Ohio; Muncie, Ind.; Los Angeles; Lincoln, Neb.; Jackson, Mich.; New Bedford, Mass.; Windsor, Vt; Gadsden, Ala.; and Topeka, Kans.

Current scales average $2.08 an hour.

band, Charles Eugene Conners, 24, of Marion. As the Conners auto passed the car which Richendollar was driving, Johnson shot the Cardington man in the face.

—:—

THE RICHENDOLLAR car went out of control and skidded into a ditch and Richendollar fled to a nearby farm house, the deputies said.

Richendollar ran to the nearby home of B. M. Sellars and asked to hide there, the Morrow sheriff's department reported. A few minutes later, Johnson, in pursuit, went to the Sellers house and asked for Richendollar.

He was told that Richendollar was not there and left. A few minutes later he went back to the house and gained entrance. He followed Richendollar upstairs to the second floor where a fight took place in which Richendollar was shot twice, Johnson was wounded in the leg and hit in the face with a hat model stand.

THE SCUFFLE progressed throughout most of the house, the Morrow deputies said. Richendollar slugged his pursuer in the jaw with a two-foot wooden hat model stand which he found upstairs and shot Johnson after he got the gun away.

Richendollar was shot three times, in the face, in the right arm and the left hand.

The two men continued the fight through the upstairs and downstairs of the house, splattering blood on floors, ceilings and walls.

Johnson left the Sellars home and forced an unidentified motorist in a Plymouth coupe to drive him to his farm home on Marion County Road 132. He was arrested by Marion Deputy Sheriff Robert Lautenslager outside his house and was taken to the Marion City Hospital.

Five stitches were required to close the gash in his mouth and he was treated for lacerated fingers. His condition was reported as "good" today.

RICHENDOLLAR was taken to Morrow County Hospital at Mount Gilead where his wounds were reported as being not serious.

Churchill

said in Chicago on that day that a thermonuclear test in the Marshall Islands in 1952 "completely obliterated the test island in the Eniwetok Atoll."

"It tore a cavity in the floor of the ocean—a crater measuring a full mile in diameter and 175 feet in depth at is lowest point. "Within this crater one could place 140 structures the size of our nation's Capitol."

'Astounded'

Referring to Cole's speech, Churchill said:

"I was astounded by all that he said about the hydrogen bomb and results of experiments made more than a year before by the United States at Eniwetok Atoll.

"Very little notice was taken over here of Mr. Sterling Cole's revelations, but when some Japanese fishermen were slightly affected by the radioactivity generated by a second explosion at Bikini an intense sensation was caused in this country."

He said his conference with President Eisenhower was the most agreeable and fruitful he had ever had.

"I never had the feeling of general good will more strongly brought in upon me."

Other Problems Arose

Before the talks took place, he said, other international problems arose, such as the Vietminh operations in Indochina "which were being sustained by the Communist government of China."

His statement came at a time when the air on both sides of the Atlantic is full of accounts of American - British disagreements, largely stemming from divergent policies toward Communist China.

Speaking of the conversations he and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden had with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Churchill said:

"We talked in perfect frankness and in full friendship with each other. We dispelled, I think some misunderstandings, even some nightmares, from the minds of our American friends about the direction of our policy.

"I think we convinced them that we have changed none of our ultimate joint objectives and that there is, at any rate, some wisdom in the means by which we are proposing to reach them."

Marion Woman Faces Trial on Fraud Charge

Fraud charges filed in Municipal Court Saturday against Mrs. Carletta M. Justice of 194 E. Mark St. were signed by Ernest Kingsley, of near Caledonia, owner of the Kingsley Grocery store at 426 Park St.

In an article in Saturday's Star it was incorrectly reported that Kingsley was of the William Fean Co., Inc., of Columbus. He is a customer of the company and endorsed a check given him by Mrs. Justice for deposit to the account of the Fean Co.

He charges the check was worthless. Mrs. Justice has been released on a $1,000 bond pending a trial. The check was for $10.

CHARITY AT HOME PLATE

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Sam Chapman is a charitable guy. The former outfield star for the Philadelphia Athletics staged a one-man batting show for the Oakland Oaks in a Pacific Coast League game. The proceeds of the contest went to the Children's Hospital here. The 36 year old slugger accounted for nine runs in a 15-2 rout of San Diego. He hit a homer, two doubles and a single.

Man Says He Saw Florida Child, 7, Slain

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami detectives returned Walter Lee Yow here from Georgia for further questioning today about his story that he saw 7-year-old Judith Ann Roberts raped and murdered last Wednesday.

Detectives Charles Sapp and I. J. Whitman said the 44-year-old former convict's story was vague and full of discrepancies but consistent enough to warrant bringing him back. He was arrested in Marietta, Ga., Saturday for vagrancy.

Yow told officers he was with the man who stole Judith Ann, daughter of a Baltimore lawyer and labor leader, from her bed in the home of her grandparents.

Sapp said Yow related at first that he saw his companion rape the child, then smash her head with a rock, but later insisted he waited in the car some distance away while the other man took the girl into a wooded area off fashionable Bayshore Drive.

Then Yow declared he made up the story to get out of Georgia and back to Florida because he had been told that Georgia officers would "bash in his head" if he fell into their hands.

Georgia officers said the paunchy Yow, who described himself as a Cherokee Indian, had a long record of convictions, including assault on a female, and had been in a North Carolina hospital for criminally insane.

In remaking its map of Illinois recently, the U.S. Geologic Survey found that previous maps had shown Peoria, Ill., a mile away from its true position.

been bolted the night of the murder.

While detectives picked over the rambling house and its private beach on Lake Erie, they excluded everyone except official investigators.

Members of Family Barred

That barred members of Dr. Sheppard's family, who had asked permission to obtain clothes for the 30-year-old osteopath, police said.

While the Sheppard home was being searched, police were told a "bushy haired" man about six feet tall and wearing a white shirt was seen about 2 or 2:30 a. m. on July 4, when Mrs. Sheppard was murdered.

The description was given by two brothers, Leo and Charles Stawicki, who said they were driving home and saw the man in the glare of their headlights while passing near the Sheppard home.

Dr. Sheppard had told police he was knocked unconscious by a tall, bushy-haired man in a fight the night his wife was slain.

Cab Driver Kidnaped, Cincinnatian Arrested

TROY, Ohio (AP) — Police today held a Cincinnati man accused of kidnaping a Cincinnati cab driver and stealing the cab.

The man was identified as Justice Kearney, 30. He is held in Miami County jail after his arrest Saturday.

Cab driver James Bray of Hamilton told police a man got into his cab, pulled a gun, ordered him out of the city, robbed him and left him on a county road near Miamisburg. He said he was tied with strips of his own shirt.

Co-Existence

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

In Stockholm, between June 19 and 23, a conference was held for the reduction of tension in international affairs. The conference was initiated by French public men including deputies of the National Assembly. Representatives of 30 nations are reported to have been present, including a Quaker from the United States.

This is one of those numerous conferences initiated by Soviet Russia with the object of forming public opinion on particular subjects. This one is part of the revived United Front movement which seeks again to bring within the Soviet orbit non - Communist and even anti - Communist elements who can agree on one special objective.

The most significant of these United Front movements in the United States was the League for Peace and Democracy (the League Against War and Fascism) which achieved a membership of 4,000,000.

THE STOCKHOLM Conference For the Reduction of World Tension was designed to start an agitation for terminating the "Cold War." "Pravda" said of this:

"What accounts for the indubitable fact that this initiative by French public figures has been met in all countries of the world with such a great response and support and has made it possible to hold such a representative conference? This is due, above all, to the fact that millions of people in all countries of the world are demanding an end to the "cold war" waged by the aggressive circles of the United States.

"The peoples demand the easing of international tension. They demand the cessation of the armaments race, of wars now in progress, and thus to free mankind from the sorrow, suffering, and privation caused by these wars."

In Europe and Asia the propaganda has been effective that the United States started the "cold war." The rejection by Soviet Russia, inside and outside of the United Nations since 1945, of the American desire to find a formula for peace is forgotten.

Those Americans who bitterly opposed the ideas of Gen. Douglas MacArthur when he could have implemented them are now turning to MacArthur as the man who was right about Korea, but what they fail to recognize is that an historic mistake, once made, sets off a chain of events which rarely can be overtaken.

AN OUTCOME of the rejection of MacArthur is the acceptance by many in Europe and Asia that to the victor belongs the spoils and that the Korean war was a victory for the Soviet Universal State.

The Stockholm Conference passed a resolution stating:

"The difference in the political and social systems does not mean by itself an inevitable cause leading to war. Peaceful co - existence is fully feasible provided that the rights of all peoples, big and small, are recognized both de facto and de jure."

What today is meant by co-existence? Politically it can be translated into a demand that the United States withdraw its opposition to a seat for Red China in the United Nations.

This is the proposal that Sir Winston Churchill and Anthony Eden brought to President Eisenhower. This is the proposition that aroused the ire of Sens. William Knowland and Lyndon Johnson, the Republican and Democratic leaders of the Senate. That co-existence means that politically is stated clearly by "Pravda" in a report on the Stockholm Conference:

"The participants at the conference demand that the United Nations reflect correctly the real relationships in the world and should become an all - embracing organization. It can become such an organization only when the People's Republic of China is restored to its lawful place within that organization and when all States which have applied or will apply for membership of the United Nations are admitted to that organization."

CO-EXISTENCE is like a tap, turned on and off by the Kremlin as required for propaganda purposes. Its present manifestation is related to the seating of Red China in the United Nations and the development of East - West trade.

It is designed to separate the United States from its allies; in fact, to isolate the United States diplomatically.

Let us not underestimate the success of this effort on the part of the Kremlin. Great Britain, France, India and many other countries that are of importance to the United States in the event of war have accepted the idea of co-existence as here defined.

They regard the United States as a stumbling block to the establishment of peace in the world—a Russian peace.

Treasure Hunt Set for Jersey Vacation Trade

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP)—Vacationists with a yen for adventure can get their fill here, plus a share of sunken treasure if they are lucky.

A unique three-man corporation known as "Vacation Expeditions" is looking for persons who want "an absolute true adventure vacation" and are willing to work.

The project is the brain-child of Paul Roberts and Wes Tennant, television executives, who have been joined by Horace Blitz, an advetising executive, in rigging up a "gold-hunting ship," the Elise.

The 85-foot, $150,000 vessel contains all sorts of diving equipment, ranging from French aqua-lungs to Navy-type frogmen's outfits. The goal of the vacation-adventure is the British sloop De Braak which sank off Lewes, Del., during a Revolutionary War engagement. The ship was said to carry $80,000,000 in gold.

Roberts said the Elise, with 12 to 14 vacationists aboard, would leave here each week for Lewes. Each trip will take about two days during which the amateur adventureers can practice diving, spearfishing or underwater photography.

But when the Elise moves into the "treasure" water, the vacationists are expected to join in the search for the sunken ship. Roberts and Tennant, both professional divers, will give tips on how the amateurs should go about it.

Any loot recovered will be divided evenly. Roberts said the vacationing adventurers also will give close attention to other sunken vessels in waters up to 85 feet deep along the South Jersey and Delaware shorelines.

"Expeditions have always been associated with millionaires' vacations or government-backed projects," Roberts said. "As far as we know, this is the first time, a bonafide expedition with the proper equipment was ever organized for the man or woman who always read about such things but never had the opportunity to participate."

White Father

By Bob Considine

Joseph J. H. Van den Biesen, titular bishop of Tullia, vicar apostolic of Abercorn, which is in Northern Rhodesia, British Central Africa, needs $183,000.

He needs it to build a Communism-combating hospital in his area. His brother, a noted Dutch architect, will provide the plans free of charge. The bishop's converts and catechists will make and bake the bricks. It will not be a great hospital, if he gets it, but it will be the greatest in many, many square miles of African heartland—for it will be the only one.

"I'm convinced we must do more than teach Christianity," the youthful, good - looking bishop in the remarkable Order of the White Fathers told me at the Gotham.

"Missionaries must prove the dynamic aspect of Christianity, and in these days we must — in order to hold our own against the inroads of Communism — offer the prospective convert physical as well as spiritual gifts. That hospital, and the two schools and outlying clinics we hope someday to build, will be better than years of sermons. We can then act Christianity and democracy, not simply speak of these things."

THE BISHOP, who normally wears the white robes and (strikingly enough) the Turkish fez of the order, says the struggle for the minds of 160,000,000 awakening Africans is one that should concern free peoples everywhere.

"The Communists want those people, and the treasuries of the land," he said. "What would they give to control the uranium mines in the neighborhood of my diocese?

"But it is not an easy task to say to an African, 'Your true friends are in the West. Don't have anything to do with those dominated by Russia.'

"The African is a lot smarter than many outsiders think he is. If you continue to say to him, 'Stay away from the Communists,' he will say to himself, 'Hey, why are these whites trying to keep me from those other fellows? Is this a trick? I must find out for myself.'"

His hoped-for hospital, the bishop said, would dramatically demonstrate to a whole section of Africa the friendship of the non-Communist world.

VAN DEN BIESEN believes there is now Communist control of the Mau Mau movement. "It started as a savage form of Africa's growing nationalism," he said, "but the Communists saw a fine chance to use it for their own prime purpose; the spread of hatred.

"They are tireless, the Communists, and ever so resourceful. We have sent many fine boys to London for their education, with the understanding that they could live in with the priests of our order there. But that is not a life for most boys. They want to get out and see the world. And they do, invariably in the company of a Communist assigned to indoctrinate them while their studies continue. Some have returned to Africa full-fledged members of the party, though educated by us at great expense."

The bishop, whose American address will be Washington, D. C. for a few weeks, is part of one of the world's most patient organizations.

The Order of the White Fathers was founded by Cardinal Lavegerie in 1863, with the approval of Pope Leo XIII. Its long-range aim is to convert the Moslem world to Christianity, a herculean task in ecclesiastic circles. Early estimates of 175 years needed for such a job have not been altered by the events since 1868.

A MOHAMMEDAN convert to Christianity, still a rarity, is ostracised and may be slain before he can find asylum outside the Arab world. Members of the order assigned to Moslem areas in North Africa speak, dress and live as Arabs but do not press the matter of conversion. Instead, they build schools and hospitals, tend the sick, offer hints calculated to raise the standard of living.

The greatest event of the order's life came several years ago when the Bey of Tunis permitted his daughter to enroll in one of the order's schools.

"There will be mass conversions one day," the young bishop said with quiet assurance. That he might not live to see that day plainly meant little to him. In the meantime, he had his hospital to dream about.

20th Century Quotes

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

"It is a rather pleasant experience to be alone in a bank at night."

Now who would say a thing like that? Well, as a matter of fact, Willie Sutton, the notorious bank bandit, tossed off the remark while philosophising on the rewards of a career that has kept him behind prison bars most of his life.

HAL BOYLE

It is one of several thousand quotations collected by Jim Simpson and Ann Gillis, the sprightly lady who bosses NBC's Who Said That? the most durable of all TV panel quiz programs.

—:—

FEELING THAT Bartlett did a good job for his day but that someone ought to also preserve the antic wit and gilded wisdom of the current generation, Simpson and Miss Gillis are bundling together for book publication the quotations they feel best reflect our times.

Most books of quotations lean too heavily on poets and politicians. Miss Gillis and her co-worker have a more cosmopolitan approach. They see no reason why a really witty observation by a gangster—or a housewife—shouldn't be preserved by posterity. As a result, their volume promises to reflect the real mental life of our recent past more accurately than a formal history.

Here, for example, are a few gems from their collection which should help give posterity some kind of insight on the kind of human beings who dwelt in the middle of the 20th century:

"A committee is a group that keeps minutes and loses hours"—Milton Berle.

"May the Lord bless you real good". — favorite benediction of evangelist Billy Graham.

"Politics is the diversion of trivial men who when they succeed at it, become important in the eyes of more trivial men" — George Jean Nathan.

"Age is no matter . . . You can be ravishing at 20, charming at 40, and irrisistible" — Mme. Chanel, French perfumer.

"Behold the turtle: he makes progress only when his neck is out"—James B. Conant, former president of Harvard.

"Washington is a place where half the people are waiting to be discovered—and the other half are afraid they will be" — Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

"A good education is harmful to a dancer. A good calf is better than a good head" — Agnes de Mille.

"The way for the armed forces to win an atomic war is to make certain it never starts" —Gen. Omar Bradley.

"The only normal and classic things I ever created are my children"—Pablo Picasso.

"IF A MAN IS VAIN, flatter. If timid, flatter. If boastful, flatter. In all history, too much flattery never lost a gentleman"—Kathryn Cravens, author of "Pursuit of Gentlemen."

"I haven't sold Bibles all my life"—Frank Costello.

"The work was killing me: they called me out of bed at all hours of the night to receive the resignations of prime ministers"—Vincent Auriol, on vacating the office of president of France.

"American soldiers have taught me better than I could have learned in any other way what America means to me"—Francis Cardinal Spellman.

Lawyer Seeks Answer For Ownership of Air

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — A Philadelphia lawyer who worked as an aviation mechanic while studying law hopes to combine both occupations and become an expert on determining legal ownership of the air.

The attorney, James A. Jennings, points out that the field of territorial rights in the air is a recent development that poses a profound problem in international law.

One problem which he said has been kicking around for several years is which nation owns the air over the North and South Poles. And he said the question has remained unanswered since commercial airplanes started trans-ocean flights.

Jennings, a 29-year-old veteran of World War II, divides his time between his books, his work at International Airport here and his wife and two children. But his chief goal is to resolve the question who owns what part of the air.

Treatment for Victims Of Atom Bomb Outlined

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Blood transfusions and antibiotics are the only effective means of treating H-Bomb and A-Bomb casualties, according to a University of California scientist at the university's Los Angeles Atomic Energy Project.

After a recently completed survey of treatments of radiation injuries, Dr. Thomas Haley of the university made these conclusions:

1. There is no 'wonder' drug that will singlehandedly counteract radiation effects.

2. Some drugs show promise but remain either ineffective or questionable.

3. The spleen appears to be vitally concerned in the victim's survival.

4. "Plasma volume extenders" have shown promise in treating some phases of radiation injury, but their value is yet to be determined.

U.S. savings have grown from less than 60 billion dollars in 1940 to an estimated 250 billion today.

TOMBSTONE MYSTERY

KAGOSHIMA, Japan (UP) — Historians at last have solved the mystery of a 300-year-old tombstone shaped like a combined sake cup and bottle placed on the seaside near here. It marks the grave of a Samurai warrior who so impressed his lord with his capacity for sake (rice wine) that the lord promised to erect the monument in memory of the super-tippler.

The McCarthy staff files are called sloppy, a term usually applied in the average office only when the head man's sandwich turns up under P for peanut butter instead of L for lunch.

ACROSS THE COUNTER

A young fellow who worked for Martin Brown was involved in a serious accident. Brown's car was wrecked.

Then the fireworks started.

Earl J. Andrews

Brown had his automobile policy in one company and his manufacturers' liability policy in another company. He immediately notified both companies of this loss arising out of his business. Naturally, he expected his companies to indemnify him for his legal liability to the injured party.

But an impasse developed: Company number one was undecided as to whether its coverage applied, and number two contends it was not responsible. Time drug on, each company holding fast, and making little effort to consider the plight of Mr. Brown.

Finally, the claimant got tired of waiting and filed suit for injuries. Mr. Brown was in a tough spot. He had to engage a lawyer to defend him, and possibly to sue his own companies to recover his costs.

Unfortunately, situations such as Mr. Brown's have happened. Naturally, if one of our companies were involved we would try to settle the disputed coverage quickly.

But the best solution is this: Place both your automobile and liability policies in the same company. We represent strong companies who will gladly write both coverages. Then, in event of accident, there is no question as to which company will defend you.

Tribe Greets All-Star Break After Disastrous Series

Chicago Completes Sweep, Whips Narleski and Lemon

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's Indians came home today for a badly needed three-day breather after losing a weekend series and their composure in Chicago.

While watching tomorrow's All-Star Game, in which the Indians are represented by four players, the Tribe may well bring to bear all its recuperative powers after suffering a four-game mauling at the hands of the Chicago White Sox, who shut them out over a period of 28 innings.

That included all of yesterday's doubleheader, except for the ninth inning of the last game, in which the Indians scored two runs. Chicago won it 8-2 after drubbing the Tribe 3-0 in the opener.

Chicago won the Friday night series opener 8-3, and blanked the Indians 3-0 Saturday.

When the series began, the Indians had a firm hold on first place in the American League, four games ahead of the New York Yankees and seven in front of Chicago.

But the New Yorkers, who have been keeping pace with the Indians' successes, had their expected good fortune yesterday against the Washington Nats, and now the Tribe stands a bare half-game ahead.

It was sweet revenge for the Sox, who were virtually counted out of the pennant race after dropping four games in Cleveland last weekend.

Southpaw Billy Pierce held the Tribe to two hits in the opener and gained his fifth win against five losses.

He got all the support he needed in the first inning, when Minnie Minoso slammed a homer with Chico Carrasquel aboard.

The only Indian hits were singles by Al Rosen in the first and George Strickland in the ninth. Pitcher Ray Narleski, who has two victories, suffered his first major league loss.

Virgil Trucks posted his 12th victory in the nightcap by holding the Indians to two hits until the ninth inning, when he gave up three more.

The Indians got their only Sunday runs on a walk and singles by Dave Philley, Sam Dente and Jim Hegan.

Trucks, who has lost only five games, defeated Bob Lemon, who was thrown out of the game in the fifth inning when he lost his temper after Umpire Ed Hurley called a fourth ball on Ron Jackson.

The Indians start a three-game series in Philadelphia Thursday. Rosen, Lemon, Bob Avila and Larry Doby are slated to play in tomorrow's All-Star game.

Jackson, Valdes Bout Heads TV Ring Schedule

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Marciano's 1955 opponent may emerge from Wednesday's heavyweight match at Madison Square Garden between Hurricane Tommy Jackson of New York and Nino Valdes of Havana.

Although Jackson was an early 2-1 favorite, the price is narrowing and Valdes might even enter the ring as the favorite.

The 10-round bout will be televised by CBS.

Jackson weighed 192 at Friday's checkup and Valdes 207 pounds.

The Hurricane, 22, beaten twice in 20 pro fights, is making his second start since he was deflated by Jimmy Slade. Valdes, 29, has an eight-fight winning streak and a 30-8-2 record. The Cuban is No. 2 among the heavyweight challengers and Jackson is No. 5.

Floyd Patterson, former Olympic champ, is expected to get back on the winning path tonight against Jacques Royer, the Frenchman who upset Tiger Jones at the Garden May 14. It will be the first outing for the 19-year-old Brooklyn light heavyweight since his first loss, a disputed decision to Joey Maxim June 7.

The eight-round bout at St. Nicholas Arena in New York will be carried on Du Mont television.

Willie Troy, a fast-rising middleweight until he was stopped by Joey Giardello March 19, gets back to the wars against Tony Anthony, former Golden Gloves champion from New York, in the 10-round bout at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway tonight on ABC-TV.

Pace Setters in AA Handed Twin Loss

By The Associated Press

The St. Paul Saints kept their hopes of overtaking Indianapolis in the American Association alive Sunday by beating the league-leading Indians twice, 8-2, and 2-0.

The double victory advanced the Saints to within 8 games of the powerful Tribe.

In other games: Toledo and Louisville split, Toledo winning the opener 4-3 and Louisville the second game 3-1. Kansas City and Minneapolis also divided, the Blues rallying for an 8-6 victory in the nightcap after the Millers took the opener 7-5. Charleston beat Columbus 1-0 in the first game and won the nightcap 4-3 on Johnny Kropf's single with the bases full in the ninth.

Former Galion Athlete Is Awarded Scholarship

GALION — An athletic scholarship at Ashland College has been awarded David Monroe, former Galion High School athlete. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Monroe Jr., former Galion residents now living in Marathon, Fla.

Monroe is majoring in physical education at Ashland where he is a sophomore. He was graduated from Galion High School in 1953. He enrolled at Bowling Green State University for the first semester of the 1953-54 school year where he was a promising candidate on the freshman grid team. He transferred last semester to Ashland. He will be a candidate for the varsity football team this fall.

Reds Divide Two Despite Bell's Spurt

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds stepped briefly into first division yesterday with a 6-5 victory over the Milwaukee Braves in the first game of a doubleheader but dropped back into fifth place when the Braves took the nightcap by the same score.

The three Brewerytown teams are a mere one game apart, Milwaukee leading Cincinnati by one-half game and the Queen Citians ahead of St. Louis by the same margin.

The Redlegs' leading slugger, outfielder Gus Bell, had a great day at the plate, knocking in three runs in the first game with a home run and a sacrifice fly and driving in a pair of tallies in the nightcap with his 12th home run of the year, a triple, and two singles.

Gus raised his average to .344, third best in the league.

Ted Kluszewski followed Bell's first game homer with one of his own, the 22nd for big Ted this season.

Once again, however, it wasn't hitting that bothered Manager Birdie Tebbets. It was the pitching.

Art Fowler, 30-year-old right-hander, gave up four runs and five hits in 1 2-3 innings and the Reds had to fight back for the victory in the opener. Not only was his pitching weak, but a fielding error made two of the runs unearned. He bobbled Bill Bruton's grounder which should have been a double play ball, then hesitated so long in throwing to the plate both runners were safe. A similar where-should-I-throw-it act cost the Reds a game last week in St. Louis.

A four-run spurt in the second inning by the Braves was highlighted by Andy Pafko's homer and a two-run triple by Hank Aaron. The fifth Milwaukee tally came on George Metkovich's homer in the seventh off winning pitcher Jackie Collum.

The Reds scored single runs in the third, fourth and fifth. Moe Savransky, second of four Red pitchers, started the scoring with a high bounder which rival hurler Gene Conley lost in the sun. Chuck Harmon's single brought Savranksy to third and he came home on Bell's sacrifice fly. Wally Post's double and Johnny Temple's single were enough for the second run.

Bell's homer in the seventh with Bobby Adams aboard and Klu's bang produced the winning runs.

Fowler's roommate, Corky Valentine, caused the difficulties in the second game. The 24-year-old rookie righthander gave up five runs and seven hits in 4 2-3 innings.

Milwaukee went ahead in the second on Pafko's second homer of the day, with one mate on base. The Reds came back in the third with three runs on Roy McMillan's double, Bell's triple, Kluszewski's single and Jim Greengrass' two-bagger.

But Valentine allowed four hits and three runs in the fifth and Tibbetts finally benched him. What proved to be the winning run, however, came off Joe Nuxhall, who allowed consecutive singles in the sixth by Andy Pafko, Danny O'Connell and Del Crandall.

Jones and Marlin Booked at Armory

Farmer Jones and Farmer Marlin, winners of last week's main event at the armory, a tag team match, have been booked for a return engagement this week by Promoter Les Fishbaugh.

The pair will be pitted against Gypsy Joe and Shiek of Araby, a couple of Chicago mat performers, in a 60-minute tag match for two out of three falls.

In the supporting card, Billy Fox and Frank Hurley will meet in a 60-minute bout, also over the two out of three falls route. Bull Montana and Tommy Nylon will meet in the 30-minute opener at 8:30. Nylon, an Australian star, will be making his first appearance here.

MAN BEHIND THE RAMPAGING GIANTS, Leo Durocher, veteran manager of the New York Giants, does his bit in the first base coaching box during a mauling of the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field, New York. Durocher, less fiery than he once was, is still a colorful baseball figure as he yells encouragement, ponders strategy, flashes signals and stashes a protective cap lining inside his shirt after a Giant batter reached first base.

Dodgers Recall Slugger From Minor League

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today recalled Sandy Amoros from their Montreal farm in the International League and released outfielder Dick Williams and infielder Charley Kress.

Amoros, with the Dodgers during spring training and the early part of the season, returns to Brooklyn with a batting average of .361, 50 runs batted in and 13 homers in 66 games with Montreal.

Williams was released outright to St. Paul of the American Association. Kress, brought to Brooklyn from Detroit in the Wayne Belardi deal, goes to Rochester if the International League club wants him. If Rochester doesn't want Kress, the Dodgers will find another spot for him.

The release of the two players makes room for pitcher Erv Palica, who loses his Army rating July 27.

Women Amateurs Seeking Golf Title

CINCINNATI (AP)—Claire Doran, the Cleveland school teacher, today defends her Ohio Women's Amateur Golf title against 104 competitors.

The large field will be narrowed to 16 championship flight berths after 18 holes on the rugged 6,432-yard Losantiville course. The sweet 16 move into match play tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday, with the two finalists playing 36 holes for the title Friday.

Miss Doran won the title first in 1950 and came back for successive triumphs in 1952 and 1953.

The 1951 champ, Miss Carol Diringer of Tiffin, who was runner-up to the Cleveland links wizard the last two years, will again be a threat.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching - Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox, set the Cleveland Indians back with two hits for a 3-0 victory in the first game of a doubleheader.

Batting-Don Mueller, New York Giants, singled, doubled, tripled, and homered in five at bats in the Giants' 13-7 first game victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Lopez Still Isn't Worried Over Sox; Yanks Toughest

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

The American League pennant chase is developing into a war of nerves.

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez says he isn't afraid of the Chicago White Sox. . . . Haven't got the pitching to last out the long season. . . . More concerned with the New York Yankees. . . . But the Tribe still has the better club.

Chicago Manager Paul Richards merely shrugs off last month, when his club went into first place. . . . He expected it all along. . . . The Pale Hose is the team to lick the Yanks, he says.

New York Manager Casey Stengel doesn't have much to say. . . . He's been spending his time looking up at the other two hoping they'd eat each other.

Right now, it appears that Stengel's hopes have been coming true. Last week, the Indians swept the Sox four straight games. Had they been able to do the same in the four-game set that just ended, they might have made a runaway of the race. But the Sox won all four, finishing operations with a 3-0, 8-2 double victory yesterday.

The Yanks, who have been taking advantage of the second-division clubs, won their ninth in a row and 12th in their last 14 by slugging the Washington Senators 7-3 to climb within half a game of the Indians. The White Sox are three games back as the chase continues to tighten.

Billy Pierce, back for the White Sox after being sidelined with a sore arm, tossed a two-hitter in the first game shutout yesterday and Virgil Trucks came back in the nightcap to hold the Tribe to five hits. Until the Indians got to Trucks for two runs in the ninth, they had gone 23 innings without scoring a run.

Minnie Minoso hit a two-run homer and Matt Batts hit one with none on to account for all the first-game scoring. In the afterpiece, bonus rookie Ron Jackson homered with two on in the third. That was all Trucks needed. Ray Narleski was tagged with the first-game loss and Bob Lemon the second.

Except for the seventh inning, when Bob Grim loaded the bases with none out, the Yanks had no particular problems with the Senators. Johnny Sain came in to rescue the youngster, who got credit for his 10th success.

In other American League action, Detroit whipped Baltimore 2-1 and the Boston Red Sox won a doubleheader from the Philadelphia A's 18-0 and 11-1.

The National League action left the New York Giants still 5½ games in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Giants thumped Pittsburgh 13-7 in the first game of a double-header, but dropped the second 5-1. Brooklyn edged Philadelphia 8-7 in the first game of a twin bill but lost the second 3-1.

Cincinnati and Milwaukee split a double-header, the Redlegs taking the first 6-5 and the Braves winning the second by an identical 6-5 count. St. Louis nipped Chicago 4-3 in the other National League game.

Al Aber, who retired the first 17 Baltimore batters, needed help from Billy Hoeft and Steve Gromek to protect his victory after Jim Fridley hit a home run in the eighth. The winning margin was provided by rookie second baseman Reno Bertoia, who got his first major league hit—a home run—in the fourth.

The Red Sox moved into sixth place from the American League cellar by virtue of their double triumph over the A's. They had 40 hits, including four by Ted Williams, who now is bating .367.

The A's lost Gus Zernial, probably for the season, when the big outfielder slipped and broke his left collarbone while attempting to field a line drive in the ninth inning of the first game. Tom Brewer and Frank Sullivan were the winning pitchers.

The Giants massacred the Pirates on six home runs—including No. 31 by Willie Mays—in the first game. But in the second, Dick Littlefield, who rarely could get American League batters out during his tenure with St. Louis, Detroit, Boston and Chicago, snuffed them. The game was close until the Pirates broke it open with three runs in the eighth. Jim Hearn was the victim.

The Dodgers had their troubles with the Phils. They dissipated a six-run bulge in the first game and finally had to win it in the eighth on doubles by Billy Cox and Junior Gilliam. Earlier, Gil Hodges had clouted two home runs and Carl Furillo, one. But Carl Erskine couldn't stand the prosperity and the Phils tied it with six in the eighth.

The second game was tied at 1-1 going into the seventh inning. Del Ennis hit a home run off Don Newcombe to break it up. Herman Wehmeier, with an assist from Robin Roberts, stopped the Brooks.

Jim Command made his first major league hit, a grand slam home run, in the Phils' big eighth inning of the first game. There is nothing in the record books to indicate if any other major league players have hit grand slam homers for their first major league hit.

The Redlegs beat the Braves in the first game on back-to-back home runs by Gus Bell and Ted Kluszewski. Bell also collected a home run, a triple and two singles for the losing cause in the second game.

Joe Cunningham hit his fifth home run since joining the Cardinals June 30 to lead the Redbirds to their triumph over the Cubs. The blow broke a 3-all tie in the sixth.

Whitey Ford, Roberts Get Starting Hill Assignments

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phils' right-hander, and southpaw Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees were named today as the starting pitchers for tomorrow's 21st All-Star Game.

By JOE REICHLER

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two 11th-hour changes in the American League pitching staff have caused the odds on the already favored National League to soar to 8-5 today for tomorrow's annual All-Star Game.

Nobody here could recall when one league ruled such a prohibitive favorite over the other, even during the years when the power-packed American League captured four straight from 1946 through 1949

Now, on the eve of the 21st clash, the shoe is on the other foot. Not only does the National own a four-game winning streak but it has most of the long-ball hitters.

Until New York's Allie Reynolds and Cleveland's Mike Garcia were declared physically unfit, it appeared the American League's seemingly superior pitching might offset the National's numerous home run hitters.

Reynolds begged off because of a pulled groin muscle and Garcia was excused because of a ruptured blood vessel in a finger. In their places, Manager Casey Stengel chose Sandy Consuegra, crafty Chicago White Sox right-hander, and Irv Noren, currently hot Yankee outfielder. Noren probably will see action only as a pinch hitter.

Both managers — Stengel and rookie Walter Alston — were mum concerning their pitchers but the expected crowd of 65,000 in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium probably was due to see a battle of right-handers — at least during the first three innings.

Based on the starting lineups, which are predominantly right-handed, and by process of elimination, the field narrowed down to Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies and Bob Keegan of the Chicago White Sox as the opposing hurlers. Both will be well rested by Tuesday. Keegan has done no pitching since Friday, nor has Roberts except for a brief mopup job Sunday.

The only other well rested pitchers are the Yankees' Whitey Ford and the New York Giants' Johnny Antonelli. Milwaukee's Jim Wilson, who replaced the injured Harvey Haddix, does not figure to start. Ford and Antonelli are left-handers.

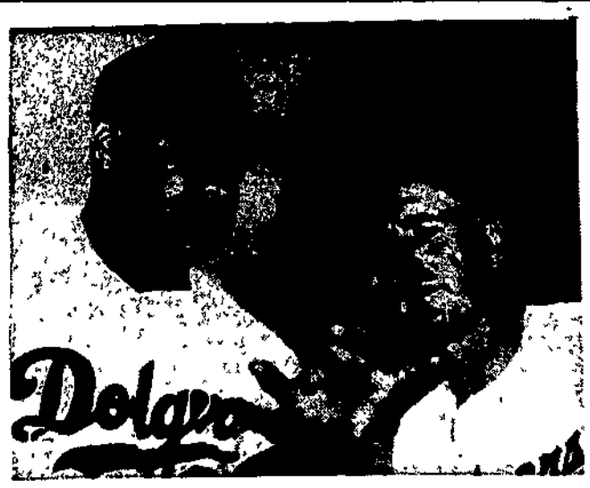
Roberts, although sporting a subpar (for him) 11-8 record this season, is a veteran All-Star competitor. He was the starting pitcher in three of the last four games all winning ones for the National League Keegan (12-3), a sophomore, is enjoying his first outstanding season in the majors.

Stengel, the all-winning World Series wonder, who has yet to triumph in four All-Star games as manager, may upset the dope and start Ford against the National League lineup, which is packed with left-handed power as represented by Stan Musial, Duke Snider and Ted Kluszewski But Ford 7-6 has had a spotty season. Dean Stone of Washington, his only other available southpaw, is strictly a gamble.

All Stengel's right-handers, with the exception of Keegan, worked either Saturday night or yesterday. Baltimore's Bob Turley, Cleveland's Bob Lemon and the White Sox' Virgil Trucks pitched yesterday. Washington's Bob Porterfield and Consuegra were on the mound Saturday.

Alston appears in a better way for pitching Should Roberts start, his second pitcher, in all likelihood, will be Antonelli, whose 13-2 record is the best in either league. After Atonelli, the Brooklyn pilot can come back with Marv Grisson, the Giants' ace relief right-hander, or southpaw Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's veteran southpaw, who has three All-Star game performances under his belt. Spahn pitched Saturday.

Right-hander Gene Conley of Milwaukee and Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, who saw action yesterday, don't figure to be called on unless absolutely needed. Wilson also pitched yesterday.



FEAR CAMPY'S HAND DAMAGED. Dodger Manager Walt Alston (right) looks concerned as he examines the ailing fingers of catcher Roy Campanella's left hand at Ebbets Field. Campanella, who has complained of numbness in the last two fingers of his hand since an operation for the removal of bone chips was performed recently, will undergo an examination to determine whether a nerve has been damaged. If the nerve is gone the Brooklyn star's ball playing days may be numbered.

Church, Commercial Leaguers Notch Wins in All-Star Battles

Church and Commercial Leaguers were winners Sunday in a pair of all star benefit games at Garfield Park.

The Church League all stars were 9-4 victors over the Industrial No. 1 League while the Commercial League stars downed the Industrial No. 2 League 15-5.

Bud England and B. Trimmer hurled the Church League squad to its victory over the Industrialists, giving up six hits. They were reached for three runs in the second and one in the fourth. Meanwhile ,their mates were touching Gruber and Wilcox of the losers for seven bingles and three runs in the first, one in the second, four in the third and one more in the seventh. Thacker punched out a pair of hits for the winners while Miner and Loper both had two hits for the losers. Harbolt tripled for the longest hit of the game.

A 14-hit attack off Darnell of the Industrial squad gave the Commercial Leaguers their lopsided victory. Sonny Taylor held the losers to nine hits as his team netted two runs in the first, four in the second, six in the fourth, two in the fifth and one in the sixth. C Uline had three hits for the losers while Fritz Walters accounted for a single, double and home run for the winners. Reefsnyder had two singles and a homer, Dillion a single and triple, McKeever a triple, and J. Frank a single and three-bagger.

The championship game next Sunday pits the Church League all stars against the Commercial Leaguers. Sonny Taylor and Bud England are the likely mound choices for the clash.

Prospect Posts 13-0 Win in Teen Action

The Prospect Teen league entry rolled to a 13-0 win over a Pleasant - Waldo combination Friday night at Prospect. The win came on the one-hit pitching of Prospect's Bob Rodgers.

Rodgers struck out 14 of 15 batters in a game called at the end of four and a half innings due to a league 10-run rule. The only hit allowed by the Prospect mound ace was a triple by Stoner.

He also led the Prospect hitting attack with three hits in three trips to the plate. Steve Lauer and Roger Landon each banged out two hits in two trys for the winners.

The Prospect team entertains Marion's American Loop entry Tuesday at 6 p m. The Prospect Little League teams, the Cardinals and Reds, will play in a game after the Teen League battle.

The Little Leaguers will entertain Radnor in a doubleheader Wednesday at 6 p m and on Saturday will be host to the Vance Little Leaguers of Marion in a game slated at 1 p m.

The Teen League crew will meet Green Camp Thursday at 6 p.m. at the Prospect diamond.

STENGEL HELPS ROOKIES

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees was talking about the rookie camp he supervised in Florida this spring. "Our preliminary camps have been so successful because competent specialists instruct in definite fields," says the only pilot to lead a team to five straight American League pennants. "Do you know what appeals to most boys? Being shown how to avoid being suckered by the veterans. I showed the kids in our advance camp 24 ways to stop being suckers. What are the 24? I refuse to give out this information. It's very valuable.

Redleg Infield Sets Sights on Loop DP Mark

CINCINNATI (AP) — McMillan to Temple to Kluszewski will never rival Tinker to Evers to Chance in baseball lore but the threesome may help set a new National League record for double plays.

Shortstop Roy McMillan, second baseman Johnny Temple and first baseman Ted Kluszewski are leading the Cincinnati Reds to new heights in the DP department.

The whole Red team has pulled 110 double plays this season to lead the majors in this field. Closest rival is New York in the American League with 105. In the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals are 21 behind the Redlegs

The most famous double play combination in baseball history was the Chicago Cubs' Joe Tinker, at short, Johnny Evers, at second, and Frank Chance, at first. Their deeds from 1902 to 1912 have been immortalized in prose and poetry. Kluszewski hardly is a rhyming name.

But even if their praises are not sung by poets, the deeds of the Redleg trio may be logged by the statisticians. With 71 games to go, the 1954 Reds need 85 more double plays to better the National League mark of 194 set by the Cincinnati clubs of 1928 and 1931. The major league record of 217 is held by the Philadelphia Ahletics of 1949

Of course, one reason the DP figures so large on the horizon of the fifth-place Cincinnatians is the number of hits and walks the pitchers have allowed

Manager Birdie Tebbets said today he hopes so many double plays aren't necessary for the rest of the season

But if they are, McMillan to Temple to Kluszewski will produce the necessary outs.

By John Crosby

New England Gentleman

In "Haven's End," John P. Marquand tells the story of the last survivor of an old and proud and rich New England family, fighting to the end the encroachments and indignities of changing times.

J. CROSBY

Mr. Marquand, of course, has been working this particular vineyard for a great many years and he does it with imposing authority and charm. The demand for his books remains very great and I can easily see why. Mr. Marquand writes with tenderness and great understanding about a set of values that has very nearly but not entirely departed.

THE OTHER NIGHT, the U. S. Steel Hour gave a sympathetic and wholly impressive production to "Haven's End" which had much of the appeal of the Marquand books. As the last of the Swales, Howard Lindsay was almost a divinely inspired choice as actor. Like Marquand, Lindsay went to Harvard and must have brushed against the old New England traditions more than once.

What interests me most about Marquand's portrayals of these relics from another day is the combination of candor and sympathy. His Mr. Swale is certainly a bit of a stuffed shirt; his preoccupation with the Swale genealogy is fairly ridiculous; he is undoubtedly a snob. And yet he is also a very nice guy and one that you would like to know, even while laughing at his eccentricities. Come to think of it, all Marquand's heroes, including the late George Apley, have been awfully nice guys, though outdated.

IN "HAVEN'S END," we see the gradual but almost total disintegration of the sort of world the elder Swale was brought up to think of as imperishable. First, he is defeated for mayor by a representative of a socially lower but hardier and, above all, more modern breed. Then there is a run on the Swale bank and Swale, accustomed to thinking of the Swale bank as an institution as permanent and inviolable as Gibraltar, personally guarantees the deposits.

But something has gone wrong with the old order. The bank president has run off with quite a lot of the cash and Swale is left holding the bag. "How could you back a man on so little evidence on so important a question?" asks his friend Emerson.

"But he gave me his word. Emerson," cries Swale. "When a man gives me his word . . ."

RIGHT THERE HE sums up the Swale character. He is not merely clinging to the sometimes preposterous outer trappings of a vanishing world but to the very real inner values. When a man gives you his word, you trust him because you trust and respect mankind in general.

When one man betrays the trust, he is betraying his whole class, the whole tradition and the whole social order. It is characteristic of Swale that, though not legally accountable, he pays off the depositors because he has given his word — even though it cleans him out.

Through all this personal tragedy, Mr. Lindsay is a magnificent figure of a New England gentleman, ejaculating his "By jove, yes!" and "Keep faith, Alfred" with superb conviction and authority.

In the end, his shipyard closed, his fortune gone, his only son killed in the war which marks the end of the Swale line, he still has spirit enough to toss out of his house a collateral Swale whose pretensions the elder Swale considers absolutely preposterous. It was a splendid performance.

FOR A MEDIUM, whose dramatic presentations are sometimes so forgettable that they vanish entirely from my memory 20 minutes after they go off, "Haven's End" sticks to a man's ribs with remarkable tenacity. I think I know why, too. We have a deep and sentimental affection for a vanished way of life. Witness "Gone With the Wind," now being reissued for the fifth time which will earn on this release alone something like $9,000,000.

Alex Segall's direction was, as usual, solid and workmanlike. Segall's direction is not given to pyrotechnics but on something like "Haven's End" you don't want them.

News of Servicemen

Midn. Jack L. Weston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale S. Weston of 202 N. Grand Ave., is currently serving aboard the battleship U. S. New Jersey. He was among 3,600 midshipmen who embarked at Norfolk, Va., recently in 19 ships cruising to European waters on the summer's first midshipmen training exercise.

Shipboard training for the future officers includes practical experience in seamanship, navigation gunnery, engineering and communications. The ships will visit ports in Portugal, Spain, Fance, Belgium and The Netherlands before returning to Norfolk Aug. 3.

In the class of 1957, he was appointed to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., last summer and was at the head of his class of 992 Midshipmen in conduct the past half semester. A graduate of Harding High School, he served in the Air Force for a year and a half prior to receiving the appointment to Annapolis.

Kenneth E. Foreman, aviation machinist's mate third class, USN, son of Mr and Mrs. George A. Foreman of West Mansfield, was recently designated "plane captain of the week" for May 21 through May 28 while serving with Composite Squadron 4 at Great Lakes, Ill. In meeting the requirements for the award, he exhibited high standards of military conduct and personal appearance and demonstrated superior performance of duty and technical ability in discharging his duties in maintaining the high availability of his assigned aircraft, his commanding officer reported. Prior to entering the Navy, he was graduated from West Mansfield High School and was employed by the Harding Screw Co. of East Liberty.

Richard E. Lewis, airman, USN, of Bucyrus has reported for duty at the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station at Kingsville, Tex. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lewis. Men at Kingsville receive jet aircraft training, fighter training, anti-submarine warfare training and all-weather flight training.

Army Pfc. Phillip C. Hatfield Jr., of near Cardington recently fired a score of 215 out of a possible 240 to become one of the top marksmen in his Army unit in Berlin. A patrolman in the 287th Military Police Company, Hatfield achieved a classification of "expert" for firing the M-1 (Garland) rifle. Pfc. Hatfield entered the Army in June, 1953, and arrived overseas the following December.

Marion and area men have been given advancements in ratings in the Navy while servig on ships of the Pacific, Atlantic and Sixth Fleets. They are:

Edward W. Short, radioman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Short of 503 Evans Rd., while serving aboard the destroyer tender USS Piedmont operating with the Pacific Fleet.

Clyde E. Seedle, radarman second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Seedle of 275 Latourette St., while serving aboard the radar picket destroyer USS O'Hare in the Atlantic Fleet.

Donald W Hempstead, teleman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace H. Hempstead of near Caledonia, while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Midway operating with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Frankie B Alexander, machinist's mate third class, son of Mr and Mrs. Carl E. Alexander of near Bellefontaine, while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Randolph in the Atlantic Fleet.

Short, a graduate of Harding High School, entered the Navy on Dev. 10, 1951 and has been stationed on the Piedmont ever since completing his basic training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Seedle served aboard the carrier escort Salerno Bay for over two years prior to his one-year stint aboard the O'Hare. A graduate of Harding High School where he played baseball, Seedle was signed by the Chicago Cubs as a pitcher following graduation and played for Moultrie, Ga., a Class D ball club, for a short time prior to entering the Navy in November, 1950. He took his basic training at Great Lakes and then went aboard the Salerno Bay.

Street Car Motormen Careful in Hiroshima

HIROSHIMA (AP)—Street car motormen in this atom-bombed city have traveled the equivalent distance to Mars — more than 45 million miles — without an accident.

The motormen have not been involved in a mishap for 6½ years.

Thomas Jefferson and John Adams, signers of the Declaration of Independence and former Presidents both died July 4, 1826, 50 years to a day after the Continental Congress adopted the Declaration.

War Victim Remembered

Connecticut Park Named In Honor of Local Soldier

A park in Danbury, Conn., has been dedicated in memory of a young Marion soldier killed in World War II.

The recreation ground, which was created especially for disabled veterans, was named after Richard Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Griffith of 360 Nunin Ct., who was killed in France.

—:—

THE RICHARD GRIFFITH grove, as the park is called, is the long-hoped-for dream of Griffith's army buddy, a disabled veteran named Peter Montesi.

Griffith and Montesi became close friends on a battlefield in France in the early part of World War II. Both served in the Fourth Armored Division under Gen. Patton.

They made a pact at the beginning that if anything happened to either one, the other would contact his family. Montesi had a wife and son; Griffith was unmarried.

GRIFFITH WAS WOUNDED and died in Montesi's arms in the Saar Basin on Nov. 23, 1944. A week later, while Montesi attempted to carry another wounded Army buddy to safety, a mortar shell took away his left arm and leg.

Montesi was flown back to the United States in December of 1944. He asked a Red Cross nurse to write to Griffith's parents for him and later when he was able, he wrote to them himself, filling in details of their son's death which the Department of Defense telegram had neglected to mention. The Griffiths went to Atlantic City to see Montesi while he was in the Army hospital. A little over a year ago, they visited the Connecticut vet again. Now, they hope to make a third trip to see their son's friend and to see the park which has been named for their boy.

The park was dedicated on July 4 with veterans' organizations taking part in the ceremony. The Griffiths were unable to be present for the service at that time because of Mr. Griffith's ill health.

MONTESI, who is associated with a hat manufacturing firm in New York City, developed the park from a tangled wilderness near the Danbury fairgrounds. Situated on a hill and at the foot of a wooded hillside, the park includes picnic grounds, refreshment stand, an amusement area and a parking lot. Montesi has named the road that leads back to the amusement area the Fourth Armored Division Road.

A stream which flows along the valley floor will some day be dammed to make a swimming pool, Montesi hopes. A row of amusement booths are yet to be installed. A 20 by 20 foot boxing ring once used in fight promotions by Montesi, will be turned into a stage and dancing platform and talent shows will feature handicapped persons.

Cars carrying visitors to the park, all except those with disabled persons, stop first at the parking lot. Montesi says that handicapped people will get first priority on everything.

SO FAR, Montesi has accomplished all this by means of a $600 GI loan, the first he ever asked, and by the helpfulness of his friends. Use of the land was donated by its owners and some friends and wellwishers lowered prices on labor and materials for the work.

There will be no admission charge at the park, but Montesi said he hopes the park will pay its way by means of the refreshment stand. He plans to run the park only on weekends.

Richard Griffith was 25 years old when he was drafted in January, 1942, into the Army and 27 when he was killed. His two brothers are Ted of Route 23, north of Marion, and Jack of 286 Bellefontaine Ave. Griffith attended Harding High School and worked at the Hotel Harding before he was drafted.

ORDERS IS ORDERS

WHEELING, W. Va.—(UP) —A rookie patrolman, Arthur MacKenzie, recently discharged from the Marine Corps, took his orders literally when Police Chief M. A. Baumann told him to clear Wheeling's main street of loiterers. Among those ordered to "move along" was Councilman Everett Miller, who was standing outside a bank waiting for another councilman.

WRECKAGE ON THE DANUBE. Rampaging floodwaters of the rain-swollen Danube River tore these landing platforms loose and inundated river-front homes in Linz-Austria, one of the many communities hard hit by Central Europe's worst flood disaster in 50 years. Rescue workers, including American and Russian troops, struggled to reach villages marooned by the waters of the Danube and its tributaries in Germany, Austria, Hungary and Czechoslavakia.

Taxi Plan Speeds Travel at Pentagon

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Army hopes to save time and money on its Pentagon auto fleet by inaugurating a radio-controlled "taxi" system.

The service was set up for a necessary convenience because of the high-ranking military and civilian personnel who often must grab their briefcases on the run upon an immediate call from the President, members of Congress or the cabinet. The cars are assigned to the Military District of Washington Motor Pool.

A trial run in the use of radio-dispatched cars at Ft. Eustis, Virginia, the Army's Transportation Center, produced excellent results. Under the new system, a driver upon reaching a destination, would receive instructions via radio to pick up other passengers in the same vicinity for the return trip, thereby eliminating the need of dispatching additional vehicles.

According to Lt.-Col. C. V. Christianson, Military District off Washington Transportation Officer, the use of radio equipment will greatly reduce the number of vehicles currently in use by the MDW Motor Pool and will "pay for itself" in a short time.

At first, the newly installed system will be used by 10 vehicles It may later be expanded until the entire fleet of Pentagon cars is radio-equipped.

WHAT'S IN A NAME??

BEETOWN, Wis.—(UP) Names of many Wisconsin towns, such as Beaver Dam, Two Rivers and Green Bay, are of fairly obvious origin, but not so with Beetown. This little town in the extreme southwestern corner of the state apparently got its name because the land was honeycombed with lead mine diggings.

Danube Flood Toll Rises to 24

Thousands Homeless In Austria, Germany

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Relief supplies for thousands of homeless victims of central Europe's worst flood in centuries poured into stricken Austria and Germany today.

Holland, Sweden, Switzerland and the Saar were the first to offer bedding, food and clothes to thousands of families made homeless by the raging Danube and a dozen tributaries. Their five-day rampage has claimed at least 24 lives on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The aid began to arrive as rescue workers struggled to reach submerged Austrian and German towns where inhabitants were still stranded on rooftops and upper floors. More than 3,000 American soldiers have been taking part in the rescue work.

Sketchy reports from Czechoslovakia and Hungary indicated those two Danube Valley countries have been hard hit by the floods. Prague and Budapest radios said Communist authorities had ordered entire farm communities evacuated and that many hamlets were under water and crops destroyed.

Dogs, Cats Top List

WASHINGTON (UP) — A lot of people have hamsters, skunks, alligators, monkeys and parakeets for pets. But a survey shows that the old standbys—the dog and the cat—still are the favorites.

The National Geographic Society reports that the U. S dog population is about 23,000,000. Estimates on the number of cats run to 27,000,000.

HAVE you been thinking you can't afford a new Buick? Listen:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick —and we boldly show our price here to prove it.

Look again, and you'll see that this is the local delivered price of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan. Compare, and you'll learn that this price is just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three."

But—dig a little deeper if you want the real clincher. That's when you find that those few dollars more you pay for a Buick buy you a lot more automobile.

They buy a whale of a lot more power—Buick V8 power—plus the new economy of Power-Head combustion.

They buy a lot more luxury and comfort and solidity —more room, more glass area, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness—including the million dollar "feel" of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability.

And get this—That's the local delivered price of the New Buick Special V8

2-DOOR, 6-PASSENGER SEDAN Model 48D (Illus.)

*Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as, heater & defroster . . . only $81.70.

They buy, too, the most advanced styling of the times, and the great panoramic windshield, and the surety that such fresh-looking beauty will stay in the style parade for seasons to come. (That means a better deal for you come resale time.)

Is it any wonder, then, that Buick now outsells all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Come in for a demonstration—this week, for sure. And learn, in the doing, what a big trade-in allowance our volume sales can bring you.

Ancient Gout Drug Gets Modern Study

ALBANY, N.Y. — (UP) — An Albany Medical College professor is studying the properties of a drug used in treatment of gout in the same manner today that it was prescribed by the Arabs centuries ago.

Dr Frank C Ferguson Jr, is studying the drug, colchicine, under a U S Public Health Service grant. Ferguson said the Arabs kept written records of the use and effects of colchicine

"The remarkable thing is," he said, "that they prescribed about the same doses, provided identical directions for administration of the drug, and apparently knew as much as we do today about the nature and action of this material"

Ferguson said the drug can prevent duplication of cells, which makes it useful to horticulturists It can be used to interfere with cell multiplication and cause production of seeds which contain "two cells in one," he said.

U.S. Firms Seek Business Abroad

Petroleum Industry Eyes Big New Foreign Market

NEW YORK (AP)—New markets for black gold are opening up in far-away places—while demand in the world's greatest oil-consuming nation is leveling off.

Thats the situation confronting the multi-billion-dollar petroleum industry today: Too much oi in the United States, not enough to satisfy the fast-growing requirements of less prosperous populations elsewhere.

any of the big U. S. oil companies are actively going after this foreign business. The results of their efforts can be seen in the glittering new refineries and tank farms that have sprung up in recent months all the way from the English Channel and the North Sea to the South Pacific.

Last year foreign countries outside the Soviet sphere stepped up their total consumption of oil products by a whooping seven per cent. This year foreign demand is expected to rise seven per cent more—to an all-time high of 4,750,000 barrels daily.

By contrast, U. S. demand is expected to show a gain of only two per cent.

The United States is still far and away the world's biggest oil user. Its 55 million autos, trucks and buses, its gigantic rail, aviation, shipping, chemical, manufacturing and power industries, burn up more oil and gasoline than all the other non-Communist countries combined.

This year, U. S. consumption of oil products is expected to reach 7,900,000 barrels daily. That's another new record, but it's only a hair's breadth over domestic oil use in 1953. In most other postwar

Oil men say the present industry pattern—a slow, gradual growth in this country and a dynamic expansion overseas—will assume even sharper outlines. That's becase the United State shas become of age as an oil-consuming nation while many others are starting from scratch. In some underdeveloped areas, the evolution has come about with breath-taking speed—almost overnight from donkey cart to helicopter.

One significant byproduct of the rise in foreign demand: Dollar-pinched countries which once almost exclusively dependent on foreign oil are trying to become self-sufficient.

And they're getting American companies to help. Drilling crews trained in the U. S. techniques are hard at work in Britain, Germany and France. Countries once bitterly hostile to foreign capital have rolled out the welcome mat for American dollars, American geologists and merican engineers. The more oil they find inside their own borders, the less they'l have to buy abroad.

A case in poin tis Argentina. Two years ago, two big U. S .oil companies pulled out of Argentina, presumably because they felt the Peron government didn't want them there. Now U. S. oil capital is flowing back. A big deal is in the works between the Argentine government and a strongly-financed American group which wants to develop the Neuguen field in southern Argentina.

Meantime, there seems to be little immediate hope of absorbing the huge flood of oil bubbling up from the world's really big producing areas—Texas, Canada, Venzeuela and the Middle East. But the hunt for new oil fields gones on.

"We're no tthinking about today or tomorrow," one oil man said. "With birth rates soaring, living standards moving higher and scientific progress on the march, we're thinking in terms of world oil requirements in 1980."

Paratrooper Gets Wings Hard Way

FT. Bragg, N.C. (AP) — Angel got his wings the hard way.

Pfc. Angel O. Gomez suffered an appendicitis attack just before his fifth and final jump as a paratrooper trainee here.

He concealed his condition and made the jump anyway. On the way down, he passed out. Medics in the drop zone disengaged his parachute and rushed him to the hospital.

Gomez had to sit up in bed to have his wings pinned on by Col. Nathaniel R. Hoskot, who said:

"What you did wasn't very smart, but . . . it showed a lot of guts and pride in the unit."

Broken Water Line Causes Cloudburst

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Southern California has been having a heat wave, so three families were really startled when an apparent cloudburst hit their houses yesterday.

The half-hour torrent poured down fireplace chimneys and soaked floors and rugs in the Philip Kenmore, David J. Manns and M. P. Marinas homes.

Then city employes stopped the geyser shooting from a big water main that had burst in the Silver Lake district, ripping a deep opening in a parkway.

Hydrazine Versatile

U.S. Research Finds Use For German Rocket Fuel

By STEVEN V. DAVID
(For Sam Dawson)

NEW YORK (AP)—A clear, colorless liquid which the Germans used to power their wartime rockets promises to make life easier and healthier for you.

The liquid is a chemical called hydrazine. Full-scale production has been under way in this country only a year, but already it is being used in the manufacture of drugs, photographic chemicals, insecticides, plant growth regulators and many other things.

Hydrazine was discovered more than 60 years ago in Germany. Largely because of its difficult preparation and unsuspected applications, nothing much was done about it until World War II when the Nazis used it to fuel their rockets.

For hydrazine is one of the most highly reactive of the inorganic chemicals. It also is a very powerful and concentrated source of chemical energy.

Development of hydrazine's military uses is continuing in this country. But Matholin Corp., owned jointly by Mathieson Chemical Corp. and Olin Industries, Inc., biggest producer of hydrazine in the United States, points out that its non-military uses are growing all the time.

This doesn't mean that huge quantities are being made.

"But it is sufficiently different in what it will do that we expect it to become an important basic chemical."

In the drug field, Matholin says, hydrazine derivatives show promise in treating tuberculosis, high blood pressure, and urinary tract infections. Hydrazine is being employed in the preparation of hormones, anti-histamines, antibiotics and certain vitamins and sulfa drugs.

And if you want to take it easier, consider the power of a hydrazine derivative called maleic hydrazize to slow down the growth of grass. The Naugatuck Chemical Division of the United States Rubber Co. discovered the derivative and tried it out on grass plots along eastern highways. In some cases, it cut mowings during the growing season from 19 to two.

Maleic hydrazide retards cell division temporarily, Naugatuck says. It works only on plants and has no effect on humans or animals. The company doesn't recommend spraying full lawns with it, however, unless power spraying equipment is used. Otherwise you may get an uneven lawn and possibly some burned-out sections.

Maleic hydrazide also is used as a spray to stop onions and potatoes from sprouting during winter storage. It prevents the flowering of tobacco and delays the opening of buds on fruit trees until the damage of frost is past.

Other derivatives of hydrazine are used as insecticides and fungicides. Matholin Corp. says one has been found that will kill mites without poisoning the birds that feed on dead mites.

The chemical has numerous industrial applications, including use in boiler water treatment and as a reducing agent for such work as separating rare metals in a pure state from their oxides or salts.

Meanwhile, as is usual with chemicals, the price has come down sharply. Hydrazine sold in this country for $50 a pound when it was being made only in experimental quantities. Today it sells for around $2.50 and Matholin hopes eventually to get the price down to $1 or less.

RESCUE MAN WEDGED INSIDE CHIMNEY. Joseph Laore, 21, is removed from the chimney of the Chicago Yacht Club. Police and firemen broke a hole in the base of the 16-foot-nigh chimney to reach Laore, who told police he had been stripped of his clothes and beaten by four men after midnight. He apparently had been carried to the roof of the one-story building and dropped feet first into the chimney. Laore, in critical condition, was taken to St. Luke's hospital and placed in an oxygen tent.

8 States Have Loyalty Oaths

CHICAGO (UP)—At least eight states require municipal employes to promise loyalty to the U. S. form of government.

According to the American Municipal Association, states requiring loyalty oaths from municipal officers are North Dakota, Oregon, Texas, Kansas, New Jersey, California, Washington and Maryland.

North Dakota, Texas and Oregon require a postive pledge of allegiance to state and federal constitutions.

Kansas, New Jersey, California and Washington require a denial of attachment to any intention to overthrow the government by force.

Maryland does not require a formal oath but requires all employes and appointees of the state and its subdivisions to submit written statements that they are not subversive.

North Dakota requires municipal officials to file oaths within 10 days after election, and Texas requires the filing of an oath before a candidate may run for municipal office. In Oregon, teachers in both public and private schools must take an oath.

Artificial Leg Improved By California Research

BERKELEY, Calif. (U) — Improvements in artificial limbs as a result of research carried out by the University of California include a hydraulic knee to improve the natural swing and eliminate jarring while walking.

Howard D. Eberhart, director of prosthetics at the university, said the new improvements worked out by the research group will be made available as soon as they have been thoroughly tested and proved.

A new artificial foot which may eliminate the need for an ankle socket is being tested. Ankle-joint action is built into the foot by incorporating wedges of steel and rubber into the unit.

Eberhart said new devices are tested by university staff members working on the campus and the Oak Knoll Navy hospital.

Seoul Has Air Alert

SEOUL (AP) — An alert was sounded over the Seoul area for 20 minutes shortly after noon today when a Communist aircraft was reported spotted over the demilitarized zone. The 5th Air Force said the plane turned around and headed north.

Tourist Trade Up

JEFFRSON CITY, Mo. — (UP) —Missouri's travel and vacation business topped the quarter-billion dollar figure in 1953 and there were indications 1954 would be even better.

The state division of resources and development said the actual figure last year was $267,885,000, with the Lake of the Ozarks providing the biggest attraction. The big lake "played" to 52 per cent of the vacationers.

Returns from some 24,000 Missouri vacation folders which actually were questionnaires showed the average party spent $159.79 for an average stay of 8.6 days. The average party was 3.6 persons.

The fellow across the street has been working extra hard the last few days trying to pay for all the clothes the family gave him on Father's Day to loaf in.

Local Shriners To Take Part in Session Sept. 17

Shriners from cities in a five-state area including Marion will journey to Columbus Sept. 17 for a two-day ceremonial and parade when the Great Lakes Shrine Association holds its annual session in Ohio's capital city, according to Carlos L. Bailey, president of the Marion Shrine Club.

The two-day meeting will honor Charles E. Nixon of Columbus, a past potentate of Aladdin Temple, of which the local club is an affiliate, and president of the Great Lakes Shrine Association.

A large number of candidates is expected to be initiated into Aladdin Temple during the ceremonial session scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 18. This will assure Aladdin's holding its position as the eighth largest Shrine Temple in North America.

Four thousand Oriental - clad marching men will take part in the spectacular parade scheduled for Saturday night. According to President Nixon the parade is being held in the evening so that folks outside the Columbus area will be able to attend.

Bands, chanters, drum and bugle corps, patrols, Oriental bands and other uniformed units from 22 Shrine Temples located in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Canada are expected to take part in the celebration.

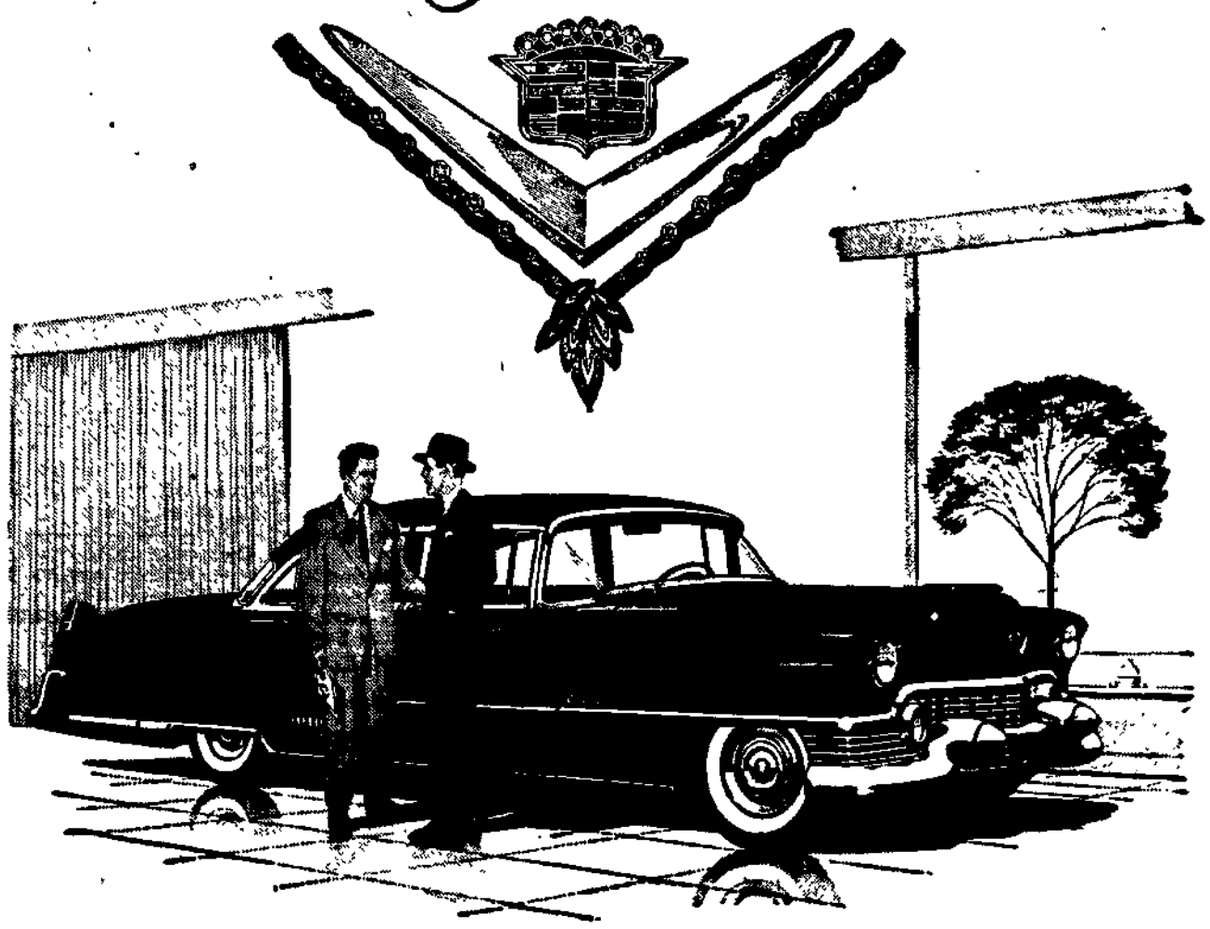
Cadillac



No Compromise This Time!

It was over twenty years ago that he took title to his first motor car—and, since that time, he has owned and driven almost a dozen different automobiles.

And yet, every time he accepted the keys to a new car, he knew in his heart that it was a compromise.

For—like so many millions of his fellow men—he had his heart set on a Cadillac!

Well, there's no compromise this time! The magic moment has arrived. The papers are all in order . . . the keys are in his hand . . . and the car of his dreams is waiting for him to take the wheel. It's his!

And, if you could but ride with him on that first journey, you'd understand what it means to have a motoring dream come true.

You'd see excitement in his eyes as he rolls majestically through the city's traffic—and puts his Cadillac through its thrilling paces on the open road.

You'd see honest pride in his face as he sits, calmly and serenely in the driver's seat, and catches the admiring glances of his fellow motorists.

And you'd sense the joy in his heart as he turns down that familiar street and heads for the happiest homecoming of the year!

In short, you'd witness a motorist in his finest hour—living out an experience that has no counterpart in the world of transportation. It is a thrill and an inspiration and an education—all rolled into one.

A friend of ours put it this way. "There are two kinds of automobiles," he told us. "There are Cadillacs—and there are all the others."

Whether or not you've driven "all the others", we can't say. But of one thing we are certain: Until you've spent an hour in the driver's seat of a 1954 Cadillac, your motoring education is not complete.

Why not come in soon and do so?

Summer Dessert of Warm Peach Pie, Ice Cream

Fresh peach pie served warm with a spoonful of ice cream on top of each wedge is a perfect summer dessert.

On these hot days try making the filling and crust during the early, cooler hours and at mealtime it will take only a few minutes to put the pie together.

Use:

- 2½ to 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- ¾ to 1 cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 4 cups sliced fresh peaches
- 1 to 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie
- 1 tablespoon butter
- Vanilla ice cream

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, peaches and lemon juice. Roll half the pastry ⅛-inch thick. Line a 9-inch pie pan and trim pastry at edge of rim. Roll remaining pastry ⅛-inch thick and cut into ½ inch strips. Fill pie shell with peach mixture. Dot with butter. Adjust pastry strips in lattice across top of pie. Press ends to edge of bottom crust. Flute edge. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F) 45 to 50 minutes, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst. Serve warm with a spoonful of vanilla ice cream on each serving.

Use 3 tablespoons tapioca when making a pie to be served warm. If desired, use ½ cup granulated sugar and ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar.

ESCAPEE RECAPTURED

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—A few hours after he escaped from the Lebanon Prison Farm, Oliver J. Irwin, 31, was captured near here yesterday. State highway patrolmen said Irwin was convicted in 1948 in Allen County of armed robbery and sentenced to a 10-25 year prison term.

Successful Thief

COGNAC, France — (UP) — There's a thief in this tiny town that nobody has ever caught — and nobody ever will. In fact, nobody has ever even seen him.

The thief of Cognac is evaporation, which robs the producers of their cognac brandy at a rate equivalent to more than 25,000 bottles a day during the process of aging by oxidation.

Nothing can be done about it. For it is this costly process that endows cognac with the flavor, bouquet and color which has made it known throughout the world.

Experiment in Republicanism

The prospect of unusual success for the Eisenhower administration's legislative program is being well publicized — and properly so. It is part of the party function in a two-party system of government to keep the public informed about its stewardship.

But there is a reason for this unusual success that does not lend itself to publicizing. It concerns something the Eisenhower administration has not been doing, something not easy to describe, nor easy to understand.

Yet, much of the acceptance of his administration's legislative ideas has been the result of an experiment in republicanism which President Eisenhower began when he entered the White House in 1953. He made it known he believed in the three-way balance of federal power, and would not try to dictate to Congress.

This pledge, coming after the Truman administration, which had tried to dictate to Congress, and the Roosevelt administration, which had tried to dictate both to Congress and the Supreme Court, was mildly revolutionary in its implications. There have been times when the President seemed to be at the mercy of people who held the view that failure to use his power in a personal way was a sign of weakness.

In a republic, the ultimate source of all governing power is the people, themselves. They are sovereign. It never dawned on either Franklin Roosevelt or Harry Truman that the people's sovereign power was made manifest in the congressional coalition that blocked their legislative recommendations. It seems to have dawned on Dwight Eisenhower.

He has picked no fights with Congress, or with its members. He has made no peremptory demands, delivered no insults, refrained from off-the-cuff remarks, indulged in no squabbling and has done no overt politicking to take advantage of political opponents. He has achieved remarkable success with a legislative program by letting legislators find out for themselves what their constituents preferred; he did not try to tell them what the folks back home were thinking.

The dignity he has restored to the White House as the symbol of the executive power has been enhanced, not diminished, by his steadfast refusal to detract by wor or deed from the dignity which belongs to Congress.

At the close of the second legislative year of his administration, President Eisenhower's experiment in republicanism is turning out more successfully than its critics ever wanted to believe it would or could turn out.

Simplicity and Taxation

Confronted once more with the annual story about simplification of income tax returns, we can hope only that the simplifiers know what they are up against.

There are moments in the preparation of our tax return when it appears that someone in Washington may have tried so hard to simplify a matter destined to be complex that the point of the income tax may have been missed.

From the viewpoint of the citizen who pays and pays, the point is this: That he wants to be certain in his own mind he has not rendered unto Caesar one red cent more than Caesar has coming to him.

Thus, as the simplified directions go tripping along like the meter on a taxicab, gathering revenue as they go, the ordinary taxpayer longs to take refuge in some fine-print obscurity where perchance he may find a loophole.

But if everything has been stripped to its bare — nay, its naked — essentials, he becomes as resentful of this over-simplified way of taking his money as he was in former times when income-tax forms were over-complicated statements of the straightforward proposition that you owed more than it was going to be convenient to pay.

A taxpayer's thoughts about taxation are never simple; that's the truth of the matter. Taxpaying never can be made easy, no matter how easy the income tax forms may be made to read.

'When a Feller Needs a Friend'

The sports writers are doing justice to the 18th anniversary of Bob Feller's first appearance as a major league pitcher. But there is a word or two the editorial writers could add.

Editorial writers may or may not be baseball fans. Whether they are or not, they acknowledge that baseball and its professional players have a powerful influence on human affairs. In the manner of thinking which goes with their unshakeable conviction that the world can be better, editorial writers wish Russians would play baseball.

They have faith in baseball. They know why Bob Feller has given millions of Americans some of the greatest thrills of their lives and is important in the American way of living.

It is not because he has just won his 255th game and raised his strikeout total to 2,511. It is not because he has three no-hit games to his credit. It is because he was a farm kid whose father encouraged him to become a pitcher and because he became one of the greatest of all time without losing his sense of values.

When the sports writers no longer have anything nice to say about Feller, he will still have a following among the editorial writers.

Ike Optimistic on Program

By James Marlow

Congress Goes Along With Major Requests

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says he feels pretty good about the way Congress, almost evenly divided among Democrats and Republicans, has treated his program. The full treatment won't be known until Congress winds up its work, perhaps at the end of this month.

Eisenhower wants the voters in the November congressional elections to judge his Republican adminstration by the kind of program Congress enacts.

Here is the record to date:

Passed by both House and Senate and now law:

American participation in the St. Lawrence seaway; extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act for one year; a defense pact with South Korea; creation of an Air Force academy; extension of major excise tax rates and cutting of others; providing two billion dollars for highway construction; and increasing the borrowing power of the Commodity Credit Corp.

PASSED BY BOTH houses but with differences which require compromise before final passage which seems assured in some form:

A general overhaul of the tax laws and a housing act.

The Senate gave Eisenhower most of what he wanted on housing: authority to build 35,000 public units a year for four years; continuing government-insured loans on homes; and use of one billion dollars for slum clearance. The House, which had acted ahead of the Senate, wanted no part of the 35,000 public housing units. Whether the House will yield now and go along with the Senate is not known.

Passed by one house and therefore not law unless the other also approves:

The 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid bill; the farm bill; the wire-tapping bill; and the social security bill.

The house has passed the foreign aid bill. The Senate hasn't voted yet. But it seems pretty sure Eisenhower will get a sizable chunk of the 3½ billion dollars he asked.

EISENHOWER WON A victory, not yet complete, when the House approved the farm bill with recognition of the principle that there should be a sliding scale — 82½ to 90 per cent of parity — on farm price supports for basic products. Supports have been at 90 per cent for years. It's uncertain whether the Senate, when it votes, will go along.

The White House wanted a law permitting use of wire-tapped information in trials of subversives. The House voted for such a bill, in modified form. The Senate may not.

The House pleased Eisenhower by approving a bill to widen the social security program, bringing under its coverage up to 10 million more people. The Senate seems likely to go along.

What Eisenhower asked for and hasn't got so far:

Reinsurance on private health insurance; statehood for Hawaii; revision of the Taft-Hartley Act; a constitutional amendment permitting 18-year-olds to vote; and revision of the Atomic Energy Act to permit this government to give allies more atomic information.

—:—

THE DEMOCRATS, by teaming up, messed up Eisenhower on Hawaii and Taft-Hartley. In the Senate they worked in statehood for Alaska as well as Hawaii. The House wanted statehood for Hawaii only. Probable result: statehood for neither.

The Democrats didn't like the administration's proposed changes in Taft-Hartley and managed to get them sent to the cooler for this year.

Eisenhower won a big victory, by a narrow squeak and vigorous effort, in getting the Senate to block the Bricker amendment. Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and others wanted a constitutional amendment limiting the scope of treaties with other countries.

Name-Dropping

By TRUMAN TWILL

You don't run across many name-droppers outside the big cities, as far as names of notable personalities are concerned.

I know some people who know some two big-league baseball players, and Calvin Coolidge once said, "Haeow ja dew" to me when I was whisked through the White House in a covey of tourists. But my acquaintanceship with celebrities and with people who are acquainted with celebrities is limited.

Outside big cities, you are more likely to be impressed with the number of people who seem to have been everywhere than with the number who profess to know everybody worth knowing.

When I was in Paris . . . This amusing little man came up to me. In San Francisco . . . There is a darling place in Miami . . . This Swedish ski instructor at Sun Valley . . . You can have Hongkong, I'll take Amsterdam . . .

That kind of name-dropping is what you have to deal with among people where nobody is anybody who hasn't traveled halfway around the world. Istanbul is more likely to crop out in a casual conversation than the name of the nearest city big enough to have its own mayor and financial troubles.

Actually, no one needs to feel at a disadvantage about name-dropping, either in the case of celebrated personages or celebrated places. Anyone can master the trick. "The last time I saw Paris" doesn't need to refer to Paris, France. It could mean Paris, Kentucky.

"Tom Dewey said to me that last time I saw him" could just as easily mean the Tom Dewey who sweeps up the clutter in the bus station. As far as that is concerned, there was a celebrity named Bobo Newsom long before there was a celebrity named Bobo Rockefeller — and there was a family that used to live next door that had a dog named Bobo. Take your pick.

The only reason for name-dropping is to impress the listener with the breadth and scope of your acquaintanceship and travels. If it helps you to say there is a flower stall near the Place Vendome where Bidault always bought a boutonniere, go ahead and say it. For all you know, it might be true. You've never been in Paris.

If it pleases you to quote Herb Brownell on a point of law without making it clear that the Herb Brownell you are quoting is a barroom hair-splitter in Sandy's Place, there is no law against it.

I have a dozen names I drop all the time. "Winston" is a cat that used to live next door. "Ike" is a gentleman of color who used to do odd jobs around a store where I worked. "Ava" is purely imaginary. So is "Marilyn." Matter of fact, I used to quote "Clara" and "Norma," instead.

Is it my fault if "Foster" sounds like an authority on international relations and "Beetle" sounds like Walter Bedell Smith's nickname? A fellow who needs names to drop must take his names where he finds them. Like the time I was in Rome and remembered to do as the Romans do. It could have been Rome, Ga., Ill., Ind., Kan., Ky., Miss., or Mo. It even could have been Rome, Italy.

And Benito—remember him — could have been a bum in any language. Matter of fact, he was.

Van Fleet Report To Set Far East Policy

By Ray Falk

TOKYO — A tight-lipped mission from Washington is now winding up a 90-day survey of the military needs of anti-Communist nations in the Far East. On its findings will be based the future of much of American military and diplomatic policy in this corner of the world.

The headline maker of this mission is Gen. James Van Fleet, who retired on April 20 last year. He is the special representative of President Eisenhower and has the personal rank of ambassador. But the chief of staff who manages the survey team is Wilfred McNeil, assistant secretary and comptroller of the Defense Department.

The group is unlike any other high-level mission in the thoroughness with which it is tackling its job. It has visited every country in its assigned area—Japan, South Korea, Formosa and the Philippines—two or three times, first, to hear the briefings that generals always sell to visiting dignitaries, second, to spot-check the situation on fieldtrips.

And finally the team takes a last look that will confirm or change its preliminary conclusions. The man responsible for this triple checking is McNeil.

GENERAL VAN FLEET interrupted his tour to fly back to Washington to deliver an interim report June 3 to a joint session of the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees. Senators later said the report was "gloomy," "depressing" and "unsettling."

The report was delivered in unusual secrecy—even the official stenographer was barred from the room. The general returned to Seoul on June 14 to begin the second part of his survey.

The mission has concentrated on those American agencies which are lending military or economic assistance in Asia. This was done with a twofold purpose, McNeil said:

1. To make certain the U.S. is getting full value out of its assistance programs.

2. To see how rapidly Asiatic armies can be built up so American soldiers can be withdrawn.

IN FORMOSA, for example, the mission found things that weren't quite to its liking. It discovered waste in Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's navy.

In going over Chinese Nationalist ship inventories, which had been forwarded to Washington without any check, it found that some of the ships listed were completely unfit for navigation. It came upon useless tugboats that could barely do five knots and yet were being maintained with American funds. The Nationalists kept the tugs in commission to give jobs to some of their officers.

The mission was astonished by the amazingly accurate inventories the Chinese soldiers kept at military depots, but was just as surprised to find no over-all coordination of military supplies at the top.

These and other findings will result in orders from Washington that, it is hoped, will increase efficiency and cut costs.

Just as important is the mission's evaluation of the future. gain, on Formosa, it came across an army that is growing older day by day; an army that is forced to rely on Formosans for new recruits.

THE MISSION THINKS that the Formosans will fight to defend their home island. Whether they will follow Chiang in an attack on the mainland remains a question mark.

In Korea, despite Syngman Rhee's boisterous desire to add another 15 divisions to his army, major obstacles prevent such an enlargement, according to the mission's findings. The South Korean economy cannot support without American help the 20 divisions Rhee now has under arms and there is a definite limit to the manpower resources of South Korea. It is doubtful whether South Korea has the young men to make up another 15 divisions.

In Japan, the problem is one of economy, the mission found. The Japanese have more manpower than they know what to do with. But their economy is weak and presently unable to support a large army, navy and air force.

Bigger Breakfasts Needed

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Teenagers, girls especially, are the least well-fed of all children, according to a Department of Agriculture report.

The study of children's eating habits in farm, city, suburban and industrial parts of the country was made by the New York State Experimental Station at Cornell University.

"Generally, breakfasts of these young adolescents were inadequate," the report stated. "Other meals, or between-meal snacks, did not make up for nutrients missed at breakfast."

Many of the children interviewed made their own breakfasts because their parents were not up or had already gone to work. "Parents often thought their own breakfast of coffee and rolls was enough for their children," the survey showed.

The recommended, nourishing breakfast includes good quality protein from milk and offers one-fourth to one-third of the day's food in calories, plus ample protein. The survey revealed that the average youngster got a breakfast equal to only one-fifth and many far less, or none of the recommended per daily calory intake.

Still Up in the Air

By MARK DANA

Flying saucers are still with us, and still causing as many conniption fits as sea monsters did a few years ago. The U. S. Air Force, because it has its own flying machines of fair speed, is our official chaser of saucers and takes out after every one reported.

Most of the mysterious gadgets turn out to be ordinary aircraft, or weather balloons, or light reflections from autos or other objects on the earth's surface, thereby disappointing their original reporters no end. Yet two or three score of strange celestial phenomena have never been identified, and may be craft from Mars or space platforms or almost anything the imagination suggests, just as long as the explanation isn't ordinary. Calling such things meteorites, for instance, is simply dreadful.

The British Air Ministry has got in on the act by trying to identify a large object, changing its shape like a jellyfish, and surrounded by a half dozen little shapes which followed a British airliner for 80 miles. The crew of 11 saw the mother shape and baby shapes; so did a dozen passengers.

Finally, so ran the report, the little shapes climbed into or onto the big one and, presto, it vanished. Some nice explanations for this have turned up, and once again one hears the terms "optical illusion" and "mass psychology" and "auto-hypnosis."

No doubt some persons ready to take oath they have seen flying saucers, cups, sugar bowls or just "things," will continue to spurn casual explanations and are on the alert to see some more—maybe with broods of 8 or 10 in tow—when their new spectacles are delivered. Illusions indeed! Mass psychology, poof! Isn't seeing believing

Dry Cell Industry

TOKYO (AP) — Ten million dry cells "made in Japan" supplied United Nations troops throughout much of the Korean fighting. As a result, Japan has a booming dry cell industry. U. S. Army rejections run less than one per cent.

It started, Army officials say, because dry cells deteriorate during shipment to the Far East.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Cowhand Meets Girl

It still seems that it must be a gag, but the story persists that Porfirio Rubirosa and Zsa Zsa Gabor are doing a movie, and—of all things—a WESTERN! Hollywood will do anything for a fast dollar, and, despite its pretenses of observing codes and wanting to do nothing to lower American standards, it seems determined to capitalize on the nauseous publicity surrounding the recent smearing of the top teachings of home, school and church. Seldom have romance, true love, high honor, marriage and the traditions of American life been given such a kicking around as in the Rubirosa-Hutton-Gabor incident.

Even as Rubirosa and Babs were being married, Zsa Zsa was reported using it for press agent purposes by proclaiming that it was all a mockery and boasting of a blackeye as proof of priority in affections.

Cupid, Hymen, the ring, the wedding pledges, the orange blossoms and Mendelssohn emerged "all beat up" in a sickening spectacle dished up to the American public, young and old, but Hollywood was not made ill. However, Rubirosa and Zsa Zsa in a western will be especially hard to take.

Fancy Rubirosa of the international cafes and polo fields as the rugged hero of the American frontier, with Zsa Zsa, of the Viennese Gabors, out thar with the cowgirls and school-ma'ams! It should be a riotous summer among the ghosts of the winners of the West, and we think some terrific turning-in-the-graves is already being done by the stalwarts of the covered wagon and buffalo trail days.

Sheriff Wyatt Earp, Calamity Jane, Wild Bill Hickok, Bill Cody, Johnny-Behind-the-Deuce, the James Boys and all the Girls of the Golden West must be running a fever as their spirits hear that Ruby and Zsa Zsa are "comin' thissaway," to shine among the simple cabins, the privations of the cowtowns and the frontier mood of rugged devotion to the highest codes of honor and the noblest types of manhood and womanhood. This one should be sumpin.

We can't wait for these top scenes:

1. The moment when Rubirosa does the bit depicting all-out devotion to one woman and a hot contempt for money, ease and comfort.

2. The situation where Zsa Zsa in a sunbonnet explains she is just a babe in the Western woods, scorning a life of opulence with the wealthy rancher and yearning only for a life with a poor but honest cowhand.

3. The point where Rubirosa timidly twists his hat and makes with this line to Zsa Zsa, "I reckon as how I ain't much of a hand with women. . . . They're out of my line, but since I set eyes on you I feel a mighty desire to settle down for life in a double harness."

The cowponies are in for some genuine horse laughs, we think. Just how Gary Cooper, Jimmy Stewart, Rod Cameron and Randolph Scott are taking the situation as they hear the hoofbeats of the steeds bearing Ruby and Zsa Zsa across the plains is not known. But this could mean war.

Elmer Twitchell is so scared by the cigarette situation that he not only demands a filtered tip, but a filtered cigar store and filtered clerks.

We didn't know until we heard it on the "Red" Barber program that the largest crowd ever in the Yankee Stadium were not at any world series or prize fights, but at a convention of Jehovah' Witnesses, when 90,000 attended.

When asked if the idea behind his appointment to look into the Central Intelligence Agency was an attempt to get the jump on Joe McCarthy, Gen. Mark Clark replied, "I think it has nothing to do with McCarthy." . . . Wanna bet?

Blaze Causes Damage Of $200 to Storage Shed

Fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $200 damage to a storage shed at the rear of an paartment building at 418 Park Blvd. at 1:44 p.m. Saturday.

Firemen from the Central station answered the alarm said that occupants of the apartment house told them the storage shed had been locked up for some three weeks. Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt said the fire could have been caused by spontaneous combustion or by children tossing a match under the building.

Occupants of the apartment building are Frank Dryer, Opal Kloss and Vern Ryan. The blaze was confined to the shed with only damage to the floors, a wall and some to the roof.

Island Musicians Becoming Modern

WASHINGTON (UP) — Calypso musicians of the West Indies have added a few "modern" instruments to their collection of ancient marimbas and whistles.

The talented islanders now use rubber-tipped stocks to tap out their old melodies on steel oil barrels.

The National Geographic Society reports that the steel-barrel instruments are discards from the oil industry warehouses scattered over the islands. They are cut to size with a hacksaw and tuned by sledgehammer. Indentations on the drum face are pounded out until the desired tonal effects are attained.

Another modern instrument used by calypso musicians is a kind of castanet made by filling a shoe polish can with small stones. Other instruments are drums made by stretching skins across barrels, whistles, and marimbas made of planks, copper tubing and tin cans.

The Society said that native musicians have always made their instruments from materials at hand, and it is only natural that such ingenuity be turned to use with new materials as they become available.

Argument in Game Of Cards Nearly Leads to Shooting

Two Marion men were involved in a near-fatal fight Saturday night, Marion County sheriff's deputies reported today.

Deputies said James Cook, Bob Price and Laurence Davis were playing cards at Cook's house on the White Oak's Rd. outside the Marion corporation limit, when an argument started.

Price and Cook went outside to fight and Cook called his wife to bring his 12-gauge shotgun, sheriff's deputies were told

Mrs. Cook brought the gun and Cook aimed at Price's head but the gun didn't fire, deputies said. Mrs. Cook called the sheriff but both Price and Davis were gone before deputies arrived.

Cook was treated at City Hospital for head injuries and received eight stitches. Price is listed as living on N. Main St. Sheriff's deputies do not know Davis' address.

Ownership Has Its Drawbacks, Executive Says

MECHANICVILLE, N. Y. (UP) —Contrary to popular belief, owning a railroad doesn't insure living the life of Riley, according to Allan Shepard, a member of the Railroad Community Committee of the capital district.

He did some research on the subject and found that a barrel of money will roll in every day, "but unless you're on the ball a barrel and a half will go out."

The research on the subject brought to light, according to Shephard, that 50 cents of every dollar goes toward employe salaries, six or seven cents for the purchase of diesels and new passenger and freight cars and 15 cents for materials, supplies and fuels.

Shepard estimated that the final tally on expenses and other incidentals leaves less than one-tenth of one cent of each income dollar—hardly enough to consider much of a profit.

He added that if you use any of the remainder to live on you won't be able to make improvements to your railroad

Shepard, who is the Boston and Maine Railroad's freight agent at Troy, N Y., also pointed out the struggle if an owner decides to reduce non-paying freight trains. He said he might run into trouble with the Public Service Commission.

Competition also is strong, with airlines, long-distance, over-the-road trailer hauls and even shipping and use of waterway.

He said governments—state and local — maintain airports — something a railroad doesn't have. They also maintain inland waterways. It's not so with a railroad.

You can't raise rates either without permission of the interstate Commerce Commission, and that might result in a process extending over many months or even years.

The future shouldn't be too darkby painted, Shepard added.

"Eventually some of the shackles of antique regulations will be removed, and the taxpayers will no longer put up with subsidizing railroad competitors," he pointed out.

Then railroads will be able to make a reasonable profit and plow that profit back into technological advances that could result in a "railroad service such as this country has never before seen or imagined."

Yucatan Channel Study Made by College Group

COLLEGE STATION Tex (UP) —Members of the department of oceanography of Texas A & M College have embarked on a cruise to study the Yucatan Channel and the sill below it that links Cuba and the Yucatan Peninsula

George Austin of the department said that 'as far as we know, the flow of this shallow region between the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea has not been defined clearly before"

The group on the department's research vessel, the AA Jakkula also studied water movements in the Caribbean Sea as the ship went from the peninsula to Honduras and to Jamaica.

Pay Not the Only Lure For Youthful Teachers

EVANSTON, Ill — (UP) — Teachers take romance and glamour into account as well as salary when they cast about for jobs, officials of the National College of Education report

Hawaii, for example, attracts June graduates with its vacation lures and tropical life even though beginning salary there is comparatively low at $3,000

Other new teachers take the western states, despite somewhat remote locations, because of relatively high starting scales. California pays $3 700 to $3 800 and Portland, Ore $3 400.

During the past 20 years, according to National College placement records, beginning salaries for teachers have risen on the average of $110 a year from $1,075 in 1934 to $1 500 in 1944 and $2,600 in 1948

This year, June education graduates were being offered slightly higher than the average of $3,200 which was paid to 1953 graduates

Wins Bronze Star

Prospect Marine Cited For Meritorious Service

A Prospect Marine, Capt. Hans W. Henzel, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in Korea last year.

The award was made in special ceremonies at Quantico, Va. The citation read:

"For meritorious achievement in connection with operations against the enemy while serving with a Marine tank battalion in Korea from Jan. 10 to Aug. 15 and from Sept. 1 to Dec. 30, 1953.

"SERVING AS commander of a separate tank platoon and later as company commander of a tank company, Capt. Henzel displayed exceptional ability, initiative and professional skill in the performance of his duties. Assigned as commander of a separate tank platoon on a special and detached mission supporting a friendly Korean partisan organization, he demonstrated outstanding leadership and professional knowledge.

Despite almost unbelievable language difficulties he ably, and virtually unassisted, coordinated and integrated his tank fire support into partisan raids conducted deep into enemy held territory.

HIS WELL-COORDINATED and extremely accurate tank fires during numerous partisan raids provided the only supporting fires capable of covering the raiding force during the heavily engaged withdrawal across a wide and treacherous river back into the friendly held area. During these actions, it was necessary for him to be constantly on the move between widely separated tank firing positions while under occasional but at times heavy enemy counter-tank fire.

CAPT. HANS W. HENZEL
Receives Marine Corps Citation

"Later serving as company commander, he continued to exhibit an untiring devotion to duty. His meticulous attention to detail and determined efforts aided greatly in the successful completion of the unit's assigned mission. Captain Henzel's conduct throughout served as an inspiration to all who observed him and was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

—:—

CAPT. HENZEL, who served with the First Marine Division in Korea for a year, is presently managing editor of the Marine Corps Gazette with the Marine Corps Schools at Quantico, Va. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. E. T. Henzel of Prospect. Rev. Henzel has been pastor of the Prospect Reformed Church for the past five years.

Henzel is a graduate of Albany, N.Y., Boys Academy and Virginia Military Institute in 1949. After spending a year at VMI, he enlisted in the service and spent two and one-half years in the Pacific area from 1943 to 1945 during World War II, seeing service at the battles of Guam and Iwo Jima.

He returned to VMI where he completed his schooling, graduating with distinction. He was given his commission in the Marines following graduation and went to Korea in December, 1952.

New Dam Aid To Venezuelan Cattle Industry

EL RASTRO, Venezuela (UP) — The largest dam in South America is being built near here as a part of an over-all program to increase Venezuela's beef production.

Some 500 workers have moved into this land of the longhorn and sombrero to build a dam across the Guarico River that will create a lake nine miles long and furnish 450 billion gallons of water for irrigation. Deforestation and earth clearing are far advanced.

While the huge state of Guarico, through which the river flows, is already Venezuela's No. 1 cattle region, desert-like aridity in the summer months thus far has curtailed its production potential.

Cattlemen assert that irrigated pasture lands can boost beef production as much as 2,000 per cent. This means that the 450 square miles to be irrigated will be able to feed and fatten as many as 270,000 steers, or more than half of all Venezuela currently produces.

Under present conditions, 450 square miles of wild land cannot feed more than about 13,500 cattle.

Three hundred miles of canals will lead water from the 90-square-mile lake to where it is needed.

Part of a $1,300 million public works program announced last December by President Marcos Perez Jimenez, the dam and irrigation system is expected to be finished by late 1955. It is being financed by oil revenues.

Per-capita beef consumption was only 47 pounds in Venezuela in 1950 as against 63 pounds in the U.S.

2 Autos Damaged In Morrow Crash

Two cars were damaged in an accident on Route 42 six-tenths of a mile south of the Morrow-Richland County line yesterday at 2:45 p.m.

Cars involved were driven by Alvin Rinehart, 20, of near Lexington and Harry Webster Tibbs, 23, of Columbus.

According to Marion state highway patrolmen who investigated the accident, the Rinehart car made a right turn into the Tibbs vehicle. Both cars were traveling north.

There was moderate damage to the front of the Rinehart car while the left front fender, grill and left door of the Tibbs car was damaged.

Caution Urged In Heat Cases

LINCOLN, Neb.—(UP)—Caution should be used in giving first aid for ailments due to summer heat, according to Helen Becker, extension health specialist at the University of Nebraska.

Miss Becker emphasized that first aid should never be given unless you determine, with a thermometer, the victim's temperature.

If the temperature is 105 or higher, give first aid for sunstroke, she said. If it is around 102, don't do anything unless it begins to rise.

When a person collapses in hot weather, the specialist said, he should be moved to the shade and any tight clothing loosened. If his skin feels hot, he probably has sunstroke or heatstroke—"but do not give first aid until you are sure."

For sunstroke or heatstroke, put a pillow under the victim's head, and cool him quickly by soaking his clothes with cold water, covering him with wet sheets or bath towels, or put ice packs around his head, neck and body.

The victim should be fanned and some one should run his arms and legs to keep blood circulating. A cold bath should be prepared while waiting for the doctor.

A person struck with heat prostration should have his head kept low, and his body should be kept warm. Even though the weather is hot, cover him with blankets and put hot water bottles around him, rub his arms and legs she said. If he is conscious, give him hot tea or coffee.

Of course, the first thing to do in any instance is to call a competent doctor.

Midwest Broiling In Scorching Heat; Wave To Hit Ohio

By The Associated Press

The blanket of warm air which ran temperatures over 100 degrees generally over the Rocky Mountain and Plains states Sunday was expected to spread into the Great Lakes region today.

Fair and hot was the picture, the weather bureau in Chicago said, with scattered precipitation and moderate temperatures. Early morning temperatures in the high 70s and 80s appeared to bear it out.

Nebraska and Kansas broiled Sunday under the highest reported temperatures, but the 100-plus heat extended from Utah and Colorado through the Dakotas and Iowa, and southward through Texas.

Invisible Seam Screens Developed for Movies

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y. (UP)—A new invisible seam projection screen that is optically engineered has been developed by The Glowmeter Corp., world's largest producer of wide screens.

The invisible seam involves a welding principle perfected by Glowmeter's research staff after 2½ years of work. The new technique also increases the strength of the washable screen, company officials say.

Glowmeter makes screen fabrics from plastic, silver and cotton which are sandwiched together into thin sheets in rolls 1,000 feet long.
